

Schedule of Events

Nursing and Health Academy 2008-2009 Calendar of Events

Date/Time	Event	Description
October 24-26, 2008	2006 Cohort Camp BONES Weekend Intensive	These current 10 th and 11 th graders will spend Saturday morning with a professional health education trainer learning techniques on developing their own health education session on Adolescent Stress.
November 7-9, 2008	2007 and 2008 Cohorts Camp BONES Weekend Intensive	This group will research a health topic and create a tri-fold poster and PowerPoint presentation that will be presented on Saturday evening.
January 10, 2009	"Living the Dream" at North Carolina School of Science and Mathematics	All the Cohorts will be offered the opportunity to visit this statewide residential magnet school for students with a strong aptitude in science, math, and technology.
March 13, 2009	Youth Health Summit	Middle school students from southeast North Carolina will be invited to participate in a day of interactive health promotion programs, communicate with health professionals and educators, and learn about health professional careers.
March 14, 2009	Mock Disaster with the North Carolina SMAT II	The 2007 and 2008 Cohorts will interact with the State Medical Assistance Team as "victims" and "rescuers" of an emergency disaster and bioterrorism drill. This drill will be set up on UNCW's campus.
June 14–July 2, 2009	2006 Cohort Nurse Aide Training	In this intensive residential campus experience, student cohorts will complete a 128-hour Certified Nursing Assistant (CNA) I program, including 80 hours of didactic learning and 48 hours of clinical experiences in a long term health facility.
June 21-July 2, 2009	2007 Cohort Two-Week Intensive	The Camp BONES students will return for a program to include: advanced nursing enrichment skills, including updates in vital signs, CPR and first aid, and patient simulations, visits to community health care agencies; academic intensives in science; and college preparation.
July 12-17, 2009	2008 Cohort Science and Math Enrichment	This group will spend the week strengthening their science and math skills along with taking a glimpse at college preparation.
July 19-31, 2009	2009 Cohort Introduction to Nursing	This new Cohort will spend the first week exploring the wonderful world of nursing with the UNCW Nurse Faculty. The second week will be spent shadowing nurses through the New Hanover Health Network.