

Preamble

This document represents a strategic plan in progress. In addition to the university's strategic vision, identity statement, core values, goals and objectives, the completed plan will include quantitative and timed targets, strategies, prioritized actions and resource requirements. The final plan will also ensure that decision making and implementation processes are guided by data that are objectively collected, professionally analyzed and relevant. Further, efforts to implement a comprehensive plan will result in inevitable amendments and modifications. The eventual strategic plan will be a long-range plan. Its objectives will serve to guide the university's course of action for many years. Some objectives will achieve their full impact in one to five years; others over a longer period of time. The goals and objectives are not ranked in priority order.

Transforming Ideas into Action: A Strategic Plan 2005-2010

Strategic Vision

The faculty, staff, administration and students of UNCW are committed to achieving excellence and to placing UNCW in a position of preeminence among midsized, public universities in the South. UNCW will maintain an intimate learning environment for undergraduates, integrating teaching and mentoring with research and service. UNCW will promote and engage in high-quality scholarship and in master's-focused graduate education, as well as in selected doctoral programs. UNCW will provide a secure and attractive campus, encourage intellectual and cultural diversity, foster regional engagement, and value individual growth and development. In these ways, UNCW will prepare its graduates for a lifetime of learning, achievement and service for the betterment of self and community.

Identity Statement

At UNCW, passionate and engaged teaching, learning and research matter. UNCW is unique in its dedication to combining a small-college commitment to excellence in teaching with a research university's opportunities for student involvement in significant faculty scholarship.

Core Values

The university's culture fosters: creative, critical and reflective thinking; lifelong learning; communication and interaction; a celebration of diversity of people and ideas; commitment to improving the quality of life on and off campus; ecological diversity and sound environmental stewardship; and personal achievement and integrity. These core values are embodied in the following:

Teaching Excellence

Excellence in undergraduate teaching at the forefront of knowledge and technology has been a hallmark at UNCW, recognized and rewarded since its inception. A commitment to teaching excellence requires that students and teachers engage in an array of intimate learning experiences and continue to build upon knowledge thus gained throughout a life of learning.

Faculty and Student Scholarship

We are a community of learners that embraces scholarship and the necessary interplay between teaching and research. At UNCW, students are afforded opportunities to learn through collaborative scholarly activities with world-class faculty at a level that rivals exclusive research institutions.

Student Development

UNCW strives to create learning environments and experiences that promote the cognitive, affective, physical and social development of the student learner. Educators and students collaboratively identify learning outcomes that further personal and professional growth. We engage in continual assessment to ensure a campus-wide learning ecology and community that supports the development of the whole student.

Regional Engagement

UNCW's service to the people of southeastern North Carolina is embedded in both our history and our mission. The university is committed to service as both a responsibility and an opportunity for mutual enhancement of the institution and the region. Among our highest priorities are providing access to our programs and services, and establishing partnerships that improve the quality of life within our region.

Diversity

Cultural, racial, ethnic and global diversity are fundamental to the mission of the university and are essential elements of an atmosphere of openness and free inquiry upon which teaching and learning rests. UNCW is committed to expanding the diversity of its faculty, staff and student body and to increasing access for historically underrepresented groups. We promote a diverse learning culture for the success and enrichment of each member of the campus community. Consistent with this value, the university actively promotes internationalization of the curriculum and student body.

Integrity

We operate in an atmosphere of openness and are committed to ethical conduct and practices, to public accountability, to cultivating personal values and moral reasoning, and to maintaining the highest professional standards in all academic and administrative endeavors.
