UNCW UNITY PROJECT
UNITY
MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 – FRIDAY, OCTOBER 1.
Build UNITY at UNCW by participating in the UNITY Wheel Project.

UNITY is an interactive public art project that celebrates our unique identities and strengthens our ties to each other. The UNITY Wheel is open to the public for viewing on the Clocktower Lawn (front of Randall Library) beginning Monday, September 20 through Friday, October 1. The UNCW UNITY Wheel Project is part of the UNITY Movement. Learn more about UNITY at unityproject.net.

To participate in the UNCW UNITY Wheel, see information below:

1. Campus Life will be available from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Monday through Friday during the two weeks of public viewing. A table will be stationed at the front of Randall Library. UNCW students, faculty, and staff can check in here.

2. Each pipe is labeled with an identifier. You will receive yarn that will be used to 'map' out your identity throughout the wheel. Staff will support you to ensure the string stays high enough for participants and spectators to walk underneath.

3. Additions to the UNITY Wheel will not be made on inclement weather days (I.E., excessive rain). Staff will assess the wheel after inclement weather to ensure the stability of the wheel is intact prior to further participation.

Map out your identity on pg. 3.
SELECT YOUR IDENTIFIERS
Choose the identifiers that describe you. Select as many as you wish. Mark the corresponding numbers on the UNITY map to the right.

PLOT YOUR PATH
Using a criss-cross pattern, draw lines to connect your numbers to each other.

START YOUR JOURNEY
Go to the center of UNITY with a ball of yarn from staff. You will start and end your journey at the center.

MAP YOUR IDENTITY
Wrap yarn around each pole you’ve identified. Please pull your yarn so there is no slack in it and keep above head level if possible. Ask staff support if you need it. Return to the center when you’re done.

31 identifiers is a limited opportunity to explore how we define ourselves and each other. All participants will receive an evaluation after the closure of the UNITY Wheel to provide ideas and feedback so we can continue to improve the UNITY experience.
