There is something indescribably special about this place - the way it looks, the way it feels, and the way we care for one another and our community. The University of North Carolina Wilmington is like no other.
OUR PEOPLE.
OUR PROGRAMS.
OUR PLACE.

UNCW is where the land, sun and sea all come together. That's what makes it like no other institution.

UNCW is a mid-sized public institution with a private feel – and the view's pretty great, too. The learning, the service, the research, the camaraderie, the campus... come be a part of it all!

Here at the state's coastal university, you'll enjoy a powerful academic experience that stimulates creative inquiry, critical thinking and thoughtful expression in a beautiful campus setting.

Located just minutes from the beach, Wilmington, North Carolina also has a vibrant culture that celebrates the arts, film and music, and a host of campus/community connections to ensure you find where you belong both on and off campus.

ACADEMICS LIKE NO OTHER.

We’re part of the University of North Carolina System and one of North Carolina’s 16 public universities, consistently recognized at a national level for academic excellence and affordability. U.S. News & World Report ranked UNCW among the Top 100 Public National Universities in its Best Colleges 2022 guidebook. This is the third consecutive year UNCW has earned this distinction, following the university’s elevation in 2018 to the category of “Doctoral Universities: High Research Activity” from the Carnegie Classification of Institutions of Higher Education.

Applied learning is an essential part of the UNCW student experience, as students integrate theories, ideas and skills into new settings. The university prepares students for the global world beyond the classroom through four core categories of applied learning: undergraduate research, study abroad, internships and service learning. Advisors will help you choose your direction and take the right steps as you chart your academic path.

The business world has no borders. Neither should your education.

The Cameron School of Business (CSB) offers students a fundamental business education that bridges theory to practice, providing you with the technical, analytical and interpersonal skills you’ll need to be an effective leader in a global business community.

CSB is fully accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB) and offers rigorous programs that prepare students for today’s challenges, stressing strategic and innovative approaches to solving business problems. Be a part of the school’s entrepreneurial ecosystem, where entrepreneurship and innovation are nurtured and supported by talented faculty, the Center for Innovation and Entrepreneurship and the Office of Innovation and Commercialization.

Take advantage of rich opportunities to develop relationships with business leaders throughout the region and state. You’ll also receive valuable insights from experienced executives from around the world through the Cameron Executive Network, the school’s mentoring program.

CSB’s numerous applied learning opportunities provide you with real-world experiences as you make a difference in your community while building skills to thrive in a business environment. Our study abroad programs allow you to develop a deeper understanding of international business and different cultures.

You can gain additional training in your specialization and connect to the community through the school’s Center for Sales Excellence and Customer Delight (an associate member of the University Sales Center Alliance) and the Center for Cyber Defense Education.

At the Cameron School of Business, your opportunities are boundless.

CSB’s average placement rate for its graduates, including graduate school placement, is 94% within six months of graduation; 65% of students complete an internship by the time they graduate.

If you’re looking for opportunities to dive deep into your subject matter, the UNCW College of Arts and Sciences (CAS) will take you from the classroom into the laboratory, onto the stage or around the world.

All UNCW students begin their journey in University Studies, an integral part of CAS and the basis for your intellectual development. The general education program promotes the growth of well-informed, creative, literate members of society, encouraging you to begin a lifelong journey of engaged inquiry and societal contribution.

From there you can pursue a variety of majors within the college’s 26 departments, programs and centers focused on the arts, the humanities, mathematical and natural sciences as well as social and behavioral sciences.

You’ll be immersed in a vibrant academic environment that values discovery, innovation, creativity and community engagement. You’ll work hand-in-hand with distinguished faculty who are dedicated to helping you realize your full potential and achieve your goals. Whether it is faculty-directed research, internships, service learning or capstone projects, you’ll then be able to apply what you learn in the classroom to the community and world.

The college’s interdisciplinary approach makes it unique and offers students a transformative experience that leads to fulfillment as a successful professional.

Nearly 95% of graduates from the UNCW College of Arts and Sciences are employed or enrolled in graduate school within six months of graduation.

Interested in contributing to the health and quality of life of individuals, families and communities? The College of Health and Human Services (CHHS) provides superior degree programs that will put you on the path to a rewarding health care or human services career.

Whether you want to pursue a career in nursing, gerontology, social work, public health, allied health, recreation therapy, clinical research or tourism, our degree programs are designed to help you gain the knowledge necessary to reach your career goals.

CHHS’s three professional schools – the School of Health and Applied Human Sciences, the School of Nursing and the School of Social Work – offer transformative learning experiences and opportunities for students to advance their knowledge through research and scholarly activity.

Through in-class and field experiences, you’ll apply what you’ve learned to serve the community in meaningful ways. You’ll also have opportunities to develop working relationships that bridge professions as you collaborate with others on campus and across the world.

Faculty, staff and students within CHHS are passionate about the enhancement of health and quality of life, especially within underserved communities in the region and beyond. Work alongside faculty to research and discover innovative ways to address issues facing these communities. Take advantage of the college’s service learning, study abroad and internship opportunities to experience health and human services through practical applications of your learning.

Be a part of a community of scholars that values collaboration, empowerment, innovation and social responsibility and help make the world a better place.

97% of UNCW nursing graduates pass the NCLEX on their first attempt.

Before starting a career inspiring young minds, your first step to becoming an educator begins at the Watson College of Education (WCE).

High-quality programs, outstanding faculty and extensive opportunities for hands-on learning through classroom placements, community outreach and international travel are a few of the reasons future educators choose the Watson College.

You will gain valuable applied learning experiences from day one, allowing you to gradually build your teaching skills. Observe local classrooms, practice methods through supervised one-on-one teaching in the on-campus Education Lab and participate in student teaching in schools. Faculty-led study abroad opportunities allow you to enrich your experience visiting schools throughout the world, including Belize, Japan and Malawi.

Immerse yourself in the college’s Education Learning Community, a residential learning community for first-year students interested in teaching. Join other pre-major students in seminars and applied learning opportunities, all designed to support your academic, social and educational development.

Take a leadership role by serving as a Watson Student Leader, a great way to connect with peers, build a network of support and establish lifelong friends while serving as an ambassador for Watson College.

WCE’s experienced faculty and teacher-mentors are dedicated to helping you succeed and provide personal attention and guidance as you work to complete your degree. That support doesn’t end after you graduate. The college offers the First Years of Teaching Support program and professional development seminars to help alumni be successful in the classroom.

Pre-Professional Programs

Pre-Law
The Association of American Law Schools recommends a pre-legal education that will develop critical thinking, verbal and speaking competency and an understanding of economic, political and social institutions. The College of Arts and Sciences offers a pre-law minor to help lay the foundation to develop these skills.

Pre-Health
Pre-health students are not required to major in science. You can study your favorite subject and still satisfy the prerequisite courses necessary for admission into medical or graduate schools of health. The pre-health program will prepare you to become a chiropractor, dentist, medical doctor, foot or eye doctor, physical or occupational therapist, pharmacist, physician assistant, speech therapist or veterinarian.

Academic superiority (measured by GPA on a 4.0 scale) and excellent scores on admissions tests (MCAT, DAT, PCAT, GRE, etc.) are critical elements in any successful graduate application. As a pre-professional Seahawk, you’ll become a uniquely qualified candidate for top graduate programs when you make the most out of your curricular and co-curricular experiences.

UNDECIDED?

University College
Undecided about your major or need a little assistance? UC’s advisors will provide support by helping you navigate the university and assist in course selection until you determine the right academic major for you. UC serves several student populations including first-years, select transfer, early college, military, first-year spring admits and pre-professional students.

Honors College

The UNCW Honors College offers an immediate community for motivated and creative students to discover and pursue their academic passions, engaging fully in the university and broader communities as citizen-scholars. As an Honors student you become junior colleagues with faculty, thinking about topics from multiple perspectives, learning by doing and taking ownership of your own questions and how to find the answers. Students in UNCW’s Honors College can expect to develop strong relationships with upper-level honors students, academic advisors and honors faculty mentors.

The Honors College faculty and curriculum will push you to engage with bigger questions, provide a larger context for your academic major and foster immediate links to broaden the community. What are the connections between art, science and mental health? Why is culture important if you’re interested in medicine? Honors students become well-rounded, interdisciplinary thinkers.

Honors College classes are small – usually fewer than 20 students – and you’ll receive personal attention with the opportunity to engage with faculty on a level similar to that enjoyed by graduate students at other universities. You can develop as a leader and a professional, learning directly from the faculty as you pursue independent research and creative scholarship. Deep learning takes places within these conversations, often outside of the classroom walls.

Georgian-style architecture and beautiful landscaping make UNCW one of the most attractive college campuses in the South. The university’s main campus covers approximately 650 acres, much of them under the canopy of Longleaf and Loblolly pines and live oak trees, or dotted with seasonal color from crape myrtles and wildflowers. Seating and gathering areas are interspersed throughout the multitude of natural areas on campus, including nature trails and conservation areas such as the Herbert Bluethenthal Memorial Wildflower Preserve, which is frequently utilized for hands-on learning for students. Take a stroll on Chancellor’s Walk, lined with the buildings where most academic classes are held. The clock tower on the Campus Commons chimes on the hour and plays the university’s alma mater each day at noon and 5 p.m. You’ll find a great photo backdrop under the arches between Morton and Leutze Halls, or snap a selfie in front of the iconic Soaring Seahawk sculpture at Belk Plaza in front of Hoggard Hall. Welcome to Seahawk Country. We’re glad you’re here!

Residence Life
uncw.edu/housing

Living on campus is not only an affordable and convenient option, but research shows that in doing so, students make a smoother transition to college life, achieve a higher grade point average, develop stronger friendships and graduate at higher rates. UNCW offers a variety of residential and non-residential options, including traditional, suite and pod-style living.

All entering first-year students will live on campus their first two academic years. *Transfer students are invited, but not required, to live on campus. Students interested in living off campus are encouraged to reference Off-Campus Student Services (uncw.edu/PERCH) as a resource, including a searchable database for UNCW students looking for housing and roommates.

Are you looking for a unique, close-knit living experience?

Applying to UNCW
uncw.edu/applynow

UNCW seeks students who are academically curious, excited to be in the classroom and willing to fully immerse themselves in our community of scholars. While our academic reputation continues to rise year after year, we embrace a community of well-rounded students who will add their talents and interests to our campus.

Minimum Course Requirements (set by the UNC Board of Governors) to be completed while in high school:
- Four (4) Course Units of English
- Four (4) Course Units of Mathematics
- Three (3) Course Units of Science
- Two (2) Course Units of Social Studies
- Two (2) Course Units of the Same Foreign Language

First-Year Criteria
Candidates successful in the first-year admission process exceed minimum course requirements with programs that include rigorous coursework offered by their high schools. In addition to academics, UNCW will review the following application items:
- SAT and/or ACT scores*
- Required personal essay and short-answer question
- Extracurricular involvement
- One letter of recommendation (optional)

* It is optional for first-year students applying in Fall 2021 or Spring 2022 to submit the SAT or ACT as a part of their application; visit uncw.edu/admissions for more information.

Transfer Criteria
- Graduated from an accredited high school or have obtained a General Equivalency Diploma (GED) or received an Adult High School Diploma
- If under the age of 21, meet high school Minimum Course Requirements or complete 24 transferable hours at the time of application
- If over the age of 21, and 24 transferable hours are not complete or in progress at the time of application, SAT or ACT scores should be submitted

All transfer applicants:
- A holistic approach is used to consider several aspects of a transfer application when making an admission decision.
- The most competitive applicant will have at least 24 hours of transferable college-level coursework (including 6 hours of college-level English and 3 hours of college-level math) with a cumulative 2.5 GPA on a 4.0 scale.
- Eligibility to return to the last institution you attended
- GED recipients must complete 24 transferable hours at the time of application

Note: Grades below a "C" (including "C-") are not transferable.

International Admission
uncw.edu/intladmissions

In addition to the requirements listed for first-year or transfer admission, international students must submit the following:

Official transcripts, translated into English, for coursework completed outside of the U.S.
- Secondary school and post-secondary institutions (if applicable)

TOFEL or ILETS Score
- Minimum TOFEL score: 71 (Internet-based) or 525 (paper-based)
- Minimum ILETS score: 6.0

Additional Information
- For students looking to transfer post-secondary school credit, please submit a Credential Evaluation Report.
- English proficiency can be waived if student has completed two college-level courses of English composition at a U.S. college or university and received a “B” or higher.

Military Admission
uncw.edu/military

UNCW is a U.S. Veteran Affairs-approved educational institution. Active duty or veterans who have served at least two years should complete the transfer application. All active duty applicants will receive a fee waiver at the time of application.

Military applicants who have served at least two years must submit an official Joint Services transcript (JST) or Community College of the Air Force transcript for consideration of credit. General and departmental elective credit will be awarded (as applicable) with submission of transcript(s). Basic Training will fulfill the university’s physical education requirement.

For information about veteran’s education benefits, please visit uncw.edu/military.

For information concerning eligibility for post-9/11 and/or Montgomery GI Bill benefits, please visit the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs at gibill.va.gov.

Transfer of Credit

Please visit the Transfer Credit Equivalencies website to see how your coursework may transfer. UNCW will accept a maximum of 93 semester hours of credit from a four-year institution and 64 semester hours of credit from a two-year institution. Credit earned at another institution with a grade of a “C” or better is accepted by the university if the coursework is comparable to courses at UNCW. Please note grades below a “C” (including a “C-”) are not transferable.

Credit by Examination

Students are encouraged to take advantage of credit-by-examination opportunities offered through AP, CLEP, IB and Dantes Subject Standardized Tests. UNCW will award academic credit to students who achieve acceptable scores on those examinations determined to have a UNCW course equivalent.

For more information on transfer of credit, AP, IB, CLEP or Dantes Subject Standardized Tests, visit uncw.edu/admissions/transfercredit.
Financial Aid
uncw.edu/finaid

To receive financial aid, all eligible students must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). It is available October 1 at www.fafsa.ed.gov for completion for the new academic year.

You must re-apply each year you are in school.

UNCW has a priority filing date of January 1 (Fall). The earlier you apply, the greater your chances for receiving grant dollars, if you are eligible. UNCW’s school code is 002984.

uncw.edu/finaid/scholarships

The university recognizes the excellent academic record and promise of outstanding students by offering a limited number of renewable merit scholarships. There is no separate application for merit scholarships; all students are considered for these opportunities on the basis of their application for admission. Our holistic review of scholarship candidates considers academic achievement, leadership qualities, commitment to service and promise of engagement in the life of the university.

Need-Based Scholarships and Grants

For individuals who qualify on the basis of need, most financial aid is provided in the form of need-based scholarships or grants from federal, state, university or private sources. Need-based scholarships range from $1,000 to the full cost of in-state tuition.

Work-Study and Student Employment
uncw.edu/career

The Federal Work-Study Program allows qualified recipients to earn part of their financial aid through employment on campus and in community service agencies. Participants may select from a wide variety of available jobs to meet their interests, skills and career plans. Work-Study is a need-based program and funding is limited.

Those students who do not meet the criteria for Federal Work-Study can still apply for available jobs through the UNCW Career Center.

Loans
uncw.edu/finaid

The Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid administers a number of student loan programs, which provide low-interest, long-term loans to students. Loans require repayment after the student leaves school.

Note: The above figures are estimates and are subject to change. Total cost of attendance is calculated to help students anticipate their costs and to determine eligibility for financial aid. Some students will spend more than the typical amounts, others less, depending on individual lifestyles and circumstances. Eligibility for financial aid is based not on individual preferences and spending habits, but instead on standard budget allowances.

Visit Campus

uncw.edu/admissions/visit

Visiting campus continues to be the best way to get to know any institution you are considering. The Office of Admissions offers daily campus visits, including a tour and information session, Monday - Friday and some Saturdays.

Visit uncw.edu/visit to register for your campus visit and stay up-to-date on all visit day programs and virtual visit opportunities.

Residency for Tuition Purposes

The specific requirements for establishing residency for tuition purposes and for eligibility for state financial aid are prescribed by state law. A North Carolina resident for tuition purposes (and for state financial aid consideration) is a person or a dependent person whose parent or legal guardian has established and maintained legal residence in North Carolina for at least 12 months.

In order to be considered for North Carolina residency, please be sure to complete residency determination prior to beginning your UNCW application at www.ncresidency.org.
