Welcome To SoundCloud! Track #1

Welcome to SoundCloud, prospective and future Seahawks. We are excited that you are interested in learning more about UNCW. In this introductory podcast, I am going to walk you through how to use SoundCloud, our new recourse, as a way to share important information with you about the application and admission process. SoundCloud allows us to create a playlist, and each track on the playlist is a different podcast sharing specific information. You can either listen to the podcast by clicking play on the icon that is shared directly on the UNCW Office of Admissions site, or you can go to SoundCloud.com and in the search bar type in “Office of Admissions- UNCW”, and our playlist should pop up. You do not need to create an account with SoundCloud because our playlist is public. The title of each track will indicate the topic of the information that is shared within the podcast. Simply click play and listen to learn! Thanks for using SoundCloud and Go Seahawks!
