

UNCW College of Arts and Sciences with the UNCW Department of Anthropology presents

The Last One

Film screening and panel discussion with community activists and professionals battling the AIDS epidemic

Tuesday, November 12, 5:30 PM
Randall Library Auditorium

This event begins a month of remembrance and awareness on campus as we host portions of the AIDS Memorial Quilt across Wilmington's churches, museums, medical centers, and several locations at UNCW. Through the intensely personal stories of its founders, volunteers, and panel-makers, The Last One examines how stigma and discrimination exacerbated and still fuel a disease that has already claimed the lives of 30 million people
