EMERGENCY AND SAFETY CONCERNS

If you are concerned for your safety or that of others, particularly when there is an identified threat:

- Immediately call University Police (UPD) at 911.

If you are concerned that a student is considering suicide:

- If immediate action is required, call University Police (UPD) at 911.
- If not imminently suicidal, call the Counseling Center (962-3746) for a consultation.

DISTRESSED STUDENTS

Behavior:
- Marked change in behavior or academic performance
- Exhibiting signs of depression and/or anxiety
- Hyperactivity or very rapid speech
- Irritability or aggressiveness

CONSULTATION OR QUESTIONS

Sometimes it may be unclear how best to help a student. In these situations, it is often helpful to consult about possible solutions so that the student can obtain support.

DISRUPTIVE STUDENTS

Behavior:
- Yelling or screaming
- Unreasonable demands for time and attention
- Harassment or threats
- Repeated threats of suicide/self harm and resisting help

IMMINENT HARM TO SELF OR OTHERS: CALL UNIVERSITY POLICE (UPD) AT 911. Then follow up with a call to the Office of the Dean of Students at 962-3119.
WHAT IS DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR?
Behavior that interferes with other students, faculty, or staff and their access to an appropriate educational or work environment is considered disruptive. These behaviors are usually a violation of the Code of Student Life. For more information about the Code of Student Life, please visit website: http://uncw.edu/cosl

WHAT ARE SOME EXAMPLES OF DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOR?
• Yelling or screaming
• Persistent and unreasonable demands for time and attention
• Words or actions that have the effect of intimidating or harassing another
• Words or actions that cause another to fear for his/her personal safety
• Threats of physical assault
• Isolation from friends, family, or classmates
• Verbal or written references to homicide or suicide
• Verbal or written references to suicide
• Strange or bizarre behavior indicating loss of contact with reality
• Dependency (individual hangs around or makes excessive appointments to see you)
• Marked change in personal hygiene and/or attire
• Exaggerated emotional response that is obviously inappropriate to the situation
• Marked change in academic performance or other behavior
• Exaggerated emotional response that is obviously inappropriate to the situation
• Feelings of depression or hopelessness
• Hyperactivity or very rapid speech
• Marked change in personal hygiene and/or attire
• Excessive confusion
• Dependency (individual hangs around or makes excessive appointments to see you)
• Strange or bizarre behavior indicating loss of contact with reality
• Verbal or written references to suicide
• Verbal or written references to homicide or assaultive behavior

WHAT IS MY ROLE?
As a staff or faculty member, you are in a good position to spot someone who may be emotionally distressed. While some stress is expected, especially during peak times of the year, you may notice someone acting in a way that is inconsistent with your normal experience with that person. You may be able to serve as a resource in times of trouble. Your expressions of interest and concern may be critical factors in getting the individual to seek appropriate help. You may also be able to alert UNCW staff so that an appropriate intervention can be made.

WHAT DO WE MEAN BY “DISTRESS”?
Sometimes students exhibit behavior that may be worrisome and may indicate that they are coping with a serious mental health problem. Mental health issues can alter the content of students’ communication and/or their behavior in the classroom. For example, an otherwise academically successful student may become withdrawn, depressed, and potentially suicidal. The depression may lead to poor grades, lack of attention in class, and other similar behaviors.

DOs
• DO report the behavior to the Office of the Dean of Students and/or the University Police (UPD).
• DO ask the student to leave the room if disruptive behavior persists.
• DO offer to make referrals. When possible, give the name of an individual who might be able to help.
• DO ask the student to leave the room if disruptive behavior persists.
• DO focus on what you can do to help resolve the situation.
• DO offer to make referrals. When possible, give the name of an individual who might be able to help.
• DO consult with the Counseling Center and the Office of the Dean of Students.

DON'Ts
• DON'T interrupt, particularly during the first 20-30 seconds of peak anger.
• DON'T minimize the situation.
• DON'T ignore safety issues if the person is becoming more agitated.
• DON'T assume you can resolve all situations; call for assistance when needed.

If you feel threatened or endangered:
CALL UNIVERSITY POLICE (UPD) at 962-2222, or IN AN EMERGENCY 911

HOW SHOULD I DEAL WITH A DISRUPTIVE PERSON?
Remain calm. Many disruptive situations involve anger. Recognize that the period of peak anger usually lasts 20-30 seconds. If the person de-escalates, then you can refer to the DOs and DON'Ts listed for further steps to resolve the conflict. If, however, the person does not de-escalate, then you may need to remove yourself from the situation and contact the University Police Department (UPD) at 962-2222 or in an emergency 911.

DOCUMENTATION
Disruptive behavior should be documented. Write a factual, detailed account of what occurred. Use concrete terms.

THE DOs
• DO allow the person to vent and tell you what is upsetting him/her. Use silence to allow the person to talk it out.
• DO acknowledge the feelings of the individual.
• DO set limits. Explain clearly and directly what behaviors are acceptable: “I will be willing to speak with you as soon as you lower your voice.”
• DO be firm, consistent, and honest.
• DO focus on what you can do to help resolve the situation.
• DO offer to make referrals. When possible, give the name of an individual who might be able to help.
• DO ask the student to leave the room if disruptive behavior persists.
• DO report the behavior to the Office of the Dean of Students and/or the University Police (UPD).

THE DON'Ts
• DON'T interrupt, particularly during the first 20-30 seconds of peak anger.
• DON'T minimize the situation.
• DON'T get into an argument or shouting match.
• DON'T blame, ridicule, or use sarcasm.
• DON'T touch the individual.
• DON'T ignore safety issues if the person is becoming more agitated.
• DON'T assume you can resolve all situations; call for assistance when needed.

STUDENT BEHAVIORAL INTERVENTION TEAM (SBIT)

The Student Behavioral Intervention Team was formed to:
- Address reports of troubling (inappropriate, disruptive, or harmful) patterns of student behavior
- Recommend proactive and non-punitive approaches to help students obtain resources which may enable them to remain focused on health and achieving success
- Minimize negative impacts on the student’s and their peer’s overall academic experience
- Identify students who may pose a threat of harm to self or others.

The SBIT meets regularly throughout each term, and with special invocation when necessary, to review students of concern. The team identifies, investigates, assesses, and monitors high risk student behaviors.

After collective consultation, the team makes recommendations for action including referral to internal and external resources or temporary separation from UNCW. Student recommendations and the resolution of troubling and disruptive behavior are always governed by a course of action that balances the best interest of the student with those of the UNCW community.

The cross-functional SBIT team includes professionals who represent: Health Service, Counseling Center, Housing & Residence Life, Office of the Dean of Students, Academic Deans, Provost’s Office, and University Police.

SBIT is UNCW’s central place to report students with behaviors of concern. If you are concerned about a student’s behavior, please contact the Student Affairs Case Manager in the Office of the Dean of Students at 962-3119 or fill out a Student Behavioral Referral Form on SeaPort at https://myseaport.unct.edu/group/mycampus/academics
