

RESOLUTION

To: UNCW Faculty Senate
From: UNCW Senate Faculty Welfare Committee
Subject: Faculty Teaching Load
Date: 09/02/2014

Whereas the UNC General Administration (GA) Policy 400.3.4 section 5 on Monitoring Faculty Teaching Workloads specifies that faculty in Masters Comprehensive I institutions have an assigned load of six (6) classes per academic year; and

Whereas UNCW has had a classification of Masters Comprehensive I status since 2000; and

Whereas the current Academic Affairs Faculty Workload Policy (indicating eight three-credit courses per academic year) is inconsistent with the GA policy,

Resolved that the Academic Affairs policy be edited to comply with section 5 the UNC GA Policy Faculty Teaching Workloads as follows:

A full workload for UNCW faculty is considered to be a teaching assignment of ~~four~~ three, three-credit hour courses per semester (including credit hour equivalencies-CHEs), but that ~~three~~ four, three-credit hour courses may be assigned to faculty without research-active status, based on their involvement with research, scholarship, and/or artistic or creative activities.

Respectfully submitted,
UNCW Faculty Welfare Committee
