

Greetings!

The fall semester is underway and we conducted the initial fall semester meetings. There were some no-shows. After communicating plans to remove the scholarship funding, the culprits connected with our office. Please encourage your students to respond to emails from our office. We try to streamline communications to minimize the number they receive.

Program Components

Have you had a chance to read the SOAR Handbook? It explains each of the program components (Community Service, SOAR Ambassador Student Organization, CLAM$, Peer Advising and Professional Advising) and the associated expectations for each cohort. Students signed an acknowledgment form indicating their understanding of the expectations.

The SOAR Ambassador Scholarship is not just a scholarship; this is a scholarship program with required activities during the course of four years. The program components align with student success and preparation for life after graduation. It is definitely possible to fulfill personal interests and extracurricular activities while completing the program requirements. More importantly, all components encourage students to be intentional about how they spend their time, resulting in four-year degree completion and a thoughtful plan of action for the months/years afterwards.
