Continuous Registration Policy

For graduate students in programs that require a thesis:

Students who have finished all course work including all of the required thesis hours:

1. May not register for more than the maximum number of thesis hours that are required to complete the degree.
2. Students who continue to use university resources in completing their degrees must enroll in and pay tuition and fees for one hour of continuous enrollment (~~GRC-600~~). This enrollment will be charged at the rate consistent with one credit hour of extension tuition and fees. These hours will not count toward the degree. Graduate students who need to register for ~~GRC-600~~ continuous enrollment must do so through the Graduate School (http://www.uncw.edu/grad_info/forms-students.htm). Students may register for ~~GRC-600~~ continuous enrollment up to three times. Beyond that, students should complete a form to request permission to extend continuous enrollment (http://www.uncw.edu/grad_info/forms-students.htm). All signatures requested on the form should be obtained before the form is sent to the Graduate School for final approval.

For graduate students in programs that do not require a thesis:

Students who have finished all course work, but have not finished exit requirements (comprehensive exam, oral and written exam, defense, etc.) must enroll in ~~GRC-600~~ continuous enrollment.

Graduate students must be enrolled in the term in which they complete their graduate work or are scheduled to receive their degree.

Students must:

1. be enrolled in thesis preparation courses for credit, or
2. be enrolled in continuous ~~registration~~ enrollment (~~GRC-600~~), or
3. be enrolled in a course for credit in their program of study in the term in which they receive their degree.

Students are responsible for complying with the policy stated above. Please contact the Graduate School (James Hall, second floor, 962-7303) for clarification or more information.

Retention Policy

Three grades of C (including all undergraduate C grades taken as a graduate student), one grade of F or I/F, or one grade of U or I/U (e.g. thesis/dissertation) results in dismissal from the graduate program. Further, if a student falls below a 3.0 GPA at any time, he or she goes on academic probation and has either three subsequent courses or nine hours to bring the GPA up to at least a 3.0. In addition, a student must have at least a 3.0 GPA in order to begin any program specific comprehensive examination and/or thesis work.

~~A graduate student who is required to take undergraduate courses, whether as a requisite for admission or for other reasons, or who takes such courses in the field of his or her graduate major, must make grades of at least B on all such courses in order to maintain eligibility as a graduate student.~~

Registration for Thesis

Every student required to write a master's thesis must register for a minimum of three hours of thesis credit. A maximum of six credit hours for the thesis may be used toward course requirements for the master's degree. During each term that a student is working on a thesis, he or she should register for as many hours as are academically appropriate, except that, if the required hours of thesis credit have been taken, the student may register for ~~GRC 600 (continuous enrollment)~~ continuous enrollment so long as this is the only course for which he or she is registered. Any student engaged in thesis research and/or writing that involves the use of university faculty or facilities must be registered during the semester or summer session in which he or she is using faculty time or facilities, whether the student is in residence or not. Graduate students must be enrolled in the term in which they complete their graduate work or are scheduled to receive their degree.
