Develop a policy for the maximum # of hours that TAs shall be allowed to work

Draft Policy

University policy for graduate student employment as a graduate research or teaching assistant (GRA or GTA) is 20 hours per week. The Graduate School must still approve exceptions to the 20-hour limit for Graduate Assistants, up to 29 hours from all sources, during the academic year. Graduate students working temporary jobs on campus other than as Graduate Assistants and in summer are limited to 29 hours.

Exceptions to exceed the 29-hour graduate student limit from all sources must be provided in advance, in writing, by the appropriate College Dean or Vice Chancellor and must include the College Dean's or Vice Chancellor's agreement to cover the resulting healthcare costs.

Graduate School Mission Statement

Mission Statement

The Graduate School provides leadership and coordination in developing and maintaining graduate programs that complement and extend UNCW's undergraduate offerings. These programs, which are responsive to local and national needs and consistent with the university's mission, are designed to prepare students for successful careers in basic and applied research, develop their art to a professional level, provide the necessary background skills and experience needed for many professional positions, or enable students to continue their education beyond UNCW. To meet these objectives, the Graduate School monitors programs to ensure that their standards and performance are of the highest quality. It also provides logistical support necessary to enhance the graduate experience and facilitate progress toward the degree. In adjusting to a changing educational environment, the Graduate School promotes communication and cooperation among faculty and students across traditional academic boundaries, promotes development of innovative and interdisciplinary programs, seeks funding to support these programs, helps create an environment that will allow research and creative activity to flourish, and provides leadership in achieving diversity in all aspects of graduate education.
