

ENGLISH LANGUAGE CENTER

BUSINESS AND DATA ANALYTICS ESSENTIALS

FACULTY

Dr. Stephen Hill

hills@uncw.edu

Professor of Business Analytics

Ph.D. Operations Management

Bio

Dr. Hill teaches courses in analytics, operations management, and supply chain management in the Cameron School of Business at UNCW. Dr. Hill's research focuses on application of analytics techniques in a variety of areas such as: supply chains, sports, and healthcare. Dr. Hill is heavily involved in study abroad and international education opportunities. He has been to 31 countries and has taught in China, England and Germany.

Yasin Emre (Leo) Gokce

yg7645@uncw.edu

Lecturer

M.A. Computer Science and Information Systems

B.A. Business Administration

Bio

Leo completed his Master's in Computer Science and Information Systems at UNCW with Supply Chain Management concentration. Previously, he attended Marmara University in Turkey and Warsaw School of Economics in Poland. During his time at UNCW, he worked with Dr. Douglas Kline for 2 years as his assistant, focusing on Introduction to Database Management. His graduate coursework includes courses in Design and Analysis of Algorithm, Database Management Systems, Programming for Analytics, and Text and Unstructured Data Analytics. Leo also performed a directed independent study on Data Analysis and Visualization with Microsoft Power BI.

Ron Murphy

murphyr@uncw.edu

Professional Communication and American Business Culture Instructor

M.A. Educational Reading, Language and Literacy

ESL Certification

Bio

Ron has been teaching in the English Language Center for 6 years. Some of the courses he has taught are Listening, Speaking and Critical Thinking, Conversation and Culture, and Business English. Ron worked previously in radio, television and motion pictures and brings his knowledge of the broadcasting industry into the classroom. The enthusiasm that he brings to the classes reflects his desire to make a difference and inspire his students.

Tim Roney

roneyt@uncw.edu

Business in the U.S. Instructor, Lecturer

Master of Business Administration (MBA)

M.A. Teaching English as a Second Language

Bio

Tim has over 15 years of experience in the banking industry. He held such positions as Branch Manager, District Manager and Vice President at Citibank and managed up to 28 employees and over $340M in assets, while being responsible for profit, growth, delinquency, hiring, training, staffing, audit and accounting functions, customer service, and sales. Tim is also passionate about international education and has had various roles in the Office of International Programs at UNCW. Tim currently serves as the Assistant Director of the English Language Center.