Review and Approval of minutes of January 2016 meeting: Daniel McCord puts forward, minutes approved

UNCW: Stephanie Ganser
- Good Neighbor Packets for January, Students who have received citations since October 2015 and CAGNA
- Met with CAGNA in December with Dr. Mike Walker and Dr. Candice Johnston
- Continued communication with Wilmington Police Department
- When I receive a citation from WPD, we look up to see if they are a UNCW student. Some are and some are not. We then look to see if they have conduct history or are a member of a Greek life organization. I connect with Greek Life at UNCW so they can follow up with the fraternity. Every UNCW student then receives follow up from me, either with an email, hard copy letter, or individual meeting
- Map of UNCW Student Citations within a 2 mile radius of UNCW
  - 1 pin per single family home or apartment cited, from August 2015
- Met with IFC yesterday to discuss expectations of behavior off-campus
- Continued communication with Wilmington residents
  - I have really enjoyed speaking with members, some present today. We have had good conversations about how we are being proactive, and I appreciate the open communication.
- When I speak with residents I follow up in many different ways. I have called WPD and Code Enforcement to follow up on residents’ concerns.
- Will touch base with landscaping next week about the grounds touching the outer parts of the campus. It is a little cold now, but they are interested in how we can make the other parts of campus look nice. I will have more updates by next meeting.
- Off-Campus Housing Fair is February 24, 2016 from 11-2 Pm in Burney. UNCW students are welcome to come to learn about the apartment complexes in Wilmington.

City of Wilmington: Steve Harrell
- Name change is being discussed at the City Council. Fence down College Road is maintained by the city and will bring the fences up at their budget discussion.
UNCW University Police: Lt. DeNoia (see attached statistics)
- Bike larceny and drug violations are down. Alcohol violations are slightly up. Overall, the campus is below average. Police are working on communicating to students about policies.

UNCW Student Leaders: Dan McCord and Colton Freund
- Dan McCord is trying to get SGA more engaged off-campus by a word of mouth campaign.
- Colton Freund is focusing on reminding fraternities to represent their neighborhoods. Last semester, the fraternities raised and donated a lot to support the Wilmington community. Reminding fraternities to pick up trash.

UNCW Office of University Relations: Andrea Weaver
- Held a siren test and overall it went very well.
- Next weekend is homecoming and traffic is going to be more dense due to alumni

City of Wilmington: Lt. John Musacchio
- Decrease in parking complaints but it is still a major issue.
- Noise complaints are decreasing and letters are being sent out
- If you have a noise complaint, call 911 to document the complaint

City of Wilmington: Joe Garnett
- Parking issues: the number of vehicles in a front yard is two in addition to the number of cars that are legally allowed to be there. Violations go to the property owners. Also sends a warning letter to the address.
- Inspectors can't keep the case open if the cars have already left

Wilmington Neighborhood Residents
College Acres Drive (Dr. Murray Seidel and Elvan Thorup):
- UNCW needs to keep up the program to continuously be educating the students. Thanked UNCW for their efforts. The trees that are being cut down by result in a safety problem because people will be crossing the creek. Home values are being harmed by student parking on the yawn. Dr. Murray Seidel wants Stephanie to encourage CFCC to update the student's local addresses. Musacchio answered Dr. Murray Seidel’s questions on procedure on punishments for noise complaints. The issue with single parking lot slots are going to basics and using the indicator to figure out whether or not a violation has occurs. Property owners are getting blamed for zoning violations because residents and the homeless are leaving trash in vacant lots.

Carleton Place: Cathy Andrews
- Carleton Place still is struggling with students working the system and getting in. She wants to work with Stephanie to check to make sure the student information matches. The parking is the big issue for Carleton. Jennie McNeilly further discussed the efforts that UNCW is doing to get the student's local address but that there are limitations to the system
Council of Neighborhood Associations: Roger Ryan

- Concerned about the new code about the number of cars parking in the yards because he feels it is not very effective (doesn't see a difference)

Public comment

- Fredrick - passed around pictures about College Acre Street showing cars in the grass, claiming that the new codes are not working

- Garnett responds by claiming that it is a process and there are places that have been improving, while there still are places that are still bad off

- Carleton place resident - UNCW students are being very respectful in this area, parking is requiring a signed lease to the association to get a parking pass and as a result, they have the ability to get cars towed

Next meeting is scheduled for April 6, 2016 from 4:00 to 5:30pm in Azalea Coast Room, Fisher University Union, UNCW Campus
