

Robert Tindall Brown Student Travel Award

Dr. Robert (Bob) T. Brown is a Professor Emeritus who served on the faculty of the Department of Psychology for three decades at University of North Carolina Wilmington. Dr. Brown received his Bachelor's degree from Hamilton College (1961) and his Ph.D. from Yale University (1966), where he was mentored by the eminent scientist William Kessen, Ph.D. His unwavering commitment to rigorous research methodology and skeptical inquiry were apparent to his students and colleagues alike while his courses in research methods, science and pseudoscience, and the history of psychology were legendary. Within the profession, Dr. Brown was particularly known for his editorial work serving as the editor for two book series and on the editorial boards of a number of journals. He was an active supporter of the Museum of World Culture's and had a great deal to do with augmenting its collections.

The scholarship is being created by Dr. Cecil R. Reynolds, in honor of the excellence of Dr. Brown's teaching and mentoring contributions. Dr. Reynolds is a 1975 alumnus, the 1984 Distinguished Alumnus of the Year and a 1988 Razor Walker Award recipient.
