Marsha Todd, M.S., is a Lecturer in the School of Health and Applied Human Sciences (SHAHS), within the College of Health and Human Services (CHHS), at the University of North Carolina Wilmington. She began teaching PED 101 (Physical Activity and Wellness) and Health 105 (Individual Well-Being) over 20 years ago. In addition to PED 101, she also teaches CHHS 210 (Creating Happiness and Well-Being). Prior to UNCW, she taught Personal Health and Community Health at Indiana State University. Marsha has completed certifications in group exercise, personal training, yoga, wellness and health coaching, and whole-foods plant-based diet.