

Charles L. Cahill Grants

Fiscal Year 2022 Recipients

- Christopher S. Elliott, (Sociology & Criminology), “Job Quality Measurement in the Craft Beer Labor Force of Wilmington, North Carolina”
- Douglas Engelman, (Sociology & Criminology), “Making Our Classrooms Relevant Through Reflective Practices in Teaching Sociology (RPTS)”

Fiscal Year 2021 Recipients

- Menaka Raguparan (Sociology & Criminology), “A multi-site qualitative study of Human Trafficking State courts in the United States: Origins, Challenges, and Consequences”
- Jean-Anne Sutherland (Sociology & Criminology), “A Sociological Look at the Lives of Nurses During COVID-19”

Fiscal Year 2019 Recipients

- Kristen DeVall, “How do they compare? Examining long-term recidivism among adult drug treatment court participants & probationers in Michigan”
-

Fiscal Year 2016 Recipients

- Kimberly J. Cook, "Exploring how Original Crime Victims Experience Wrongful Convictions and the Aftermath of Exonerations in the USA"
- Christina Lanier and Kristen Devall, "How'd you do it?: A qualitative approach to understanding drug treatment court success among methamphetamine users"

Fiscal Year 2015 Recipients

- Jennifer Vanderminden, Sociology and Criminology, "Examining the Complex Relationship between Victimization and Disability During Childhood and Adolescence Using Latent Growth Curve Modeling"

Fiscal Year 2014 Recipients

- Julia Waity, Sociology and Criminology, "The Food Assistance Landscape in NC and Access to Food Assistance."
- Kristen Devall and Christina Lanier, Sociology and Criminology, "An Examination of Three Michigan Drug Treatment Court Programs: Success & Recidivism."