Welcome to UNCW’s Brand Identity Guide (BIG)! The Office of University Relations (OUR) is pleased to present these branding-related guidelines and tips to help maximize the effectiveness of university messaging at every turn.

The elements outlined in the following pages represent the university’s commitment to a unified brand identity that serves as a visual representation of our university’s excellence -- while providing flexibility so campus units retain individuality within this strategy. These guidelines apply to all printed and electronic materials that represent the university to its constituents, both internally and externally.

A key goal of the Office of University Relations is to ensure that all UNCW departments, programs and events receive the positive attention they deserve. Adhering to the principles of our brand identity can only serve to enhance the reputation that our faculty, staff and students have worked so hard to attain.

OUR is eager to work with you to develop, produce and distribute high-quality collateral that meets your messaging objectives alongside those of the university. While OUR is responsible for final review and approval of university-related marketing materials, we are committed to effective collaboration with campus units and welcome the opportunity for input and discussion along the way.

By working together to promote the university’s identity and messaging in a consistent, powerful and well-defined way, we will be able to showcase the very best that UNCW has to offer. We hope you’ll find BIG to be a valuable resource, and we thank you for your efforts to support UNCW’s branding and communications strategy!

Office of University Relations
OUR@uncw.edu
1. The UNCW Brand Identity Guide applies to all visual communications that represent the university to any audience, whether internal or external. This includes, but is not limited to: printed publications, printed event programs, advertisements (newspaper, magazine, academic publications, television, radio, web, etc.), websites, video productions, exhibit materials, social media and advertising on social media platforms, apparel, specialty items and signage for buildings and vehicles.

2. OUR takes seriously the responsibility to promote and protect UNCW’s brand. All print and web materials for external audiences must be reviewed by the Office of University Relations for editorial consistency, accuracy of information, brand style, appropriate use of the university name and logo and use of photographs.

3. All university publications must comply with the brand identity guidelines, including logo usage, color application, typeface and typography styles and image and photo approach.

4. In all visual representations of the university, only approved logos and marks may be used. See page 18.

5. The UNCW house or the UNCW logo must be on all materials that represent the university. For materials with sizes that preclude the use of the full name (e.g., pens, space-limited ads, etc.), contact OUR for assistance.

6. Teal, teal, teal! When planning projects using color, think teal. It’s the university’s signature color. See page 30 for official PMS, CMYK and RGB values.

7. Printed publications must include a cost statement when 200 or more are printed with state funds and are intended for external distribution. Nondiscrimination and Title IX statements and/or ADA statements are required. See page 82.

9. The Office of University Relations is responsible for final review and approval of all marketing materials and messages that represent the university. This includes all print, web and social media materials and messages. Please visit uncw.edu/OUR for more information on how to work with OUR to initiate a project or secure review and approval.

10. All materials submitted to UNCW Printing Services, with the exception of academic and instructional materials, must be reviewed by the Office of University Relations prior to print production.
University Relations must review every university publication – print and electronic – for brand consistency, including newsletters, printed event programs and invitations. See page 12 for OUR menu of suggested lead times.

Student projects developed to enhance the marketing of UNCW academics or programs are required to receive approval by the Office of University Relations prior to public dissemination. This does not apply to projects on behalf of student organizations. See page 14.

To submit items for approval only, please send to OUR@uncw.edu with a subject line of APPROVAL with the publication’s name.

OUR TEAM IS YOUR TEAM.

CREATIVE SERVICES
This unit is responsible for the concept, design and execution of marketing/promotional collateral for internal and external audiences, including design, illustrations/graphics, specialized website design and brand identity. This includes the creation or approval of materials that market the university to a mass audience, including conferences on campus or co-sponsored with community organizations, advertising and promotional posters.

COMMUNICATIONS
This unit is responsible for internal and external communications including SWOOP, emergency communications, website messaging, event and new initiative promotion, media relations, UNCW Magazine, advertising messages and brand management. This unit also supports content development and/or editorial review of print and digital collateral for other campus divisions.

MEDIA PRODUCTION
This unit highlights the academic and institutional achievements of the university via video production, still photography and multimedia campaigns. Projects are prioritized based on overarching university goals and include promotional videos, on-campus digital messaging, the broadcasting of events like commencement and other vehicles as applicable. This unit is also responsible for headshots; visit uncw.edu/our/photography for schedule.

WEB COMMUNICATIONS
This unit is responsible for general oversight and organization of content for the university website, and for maintaining standards of style and compliance throughout its pages. The web team also manages the university’s social media channels and coordinates with campus social media and web content contributors to support effective development of content and messaging.
OUR’S FOCUS AREAS

OUR is tasked with developing, producing and/or approving promotional materials (publications, messaging, digital communications, video/photography and advertising) that reflect institutional needs as outlined in the university’s Strategic Plan. This includes:

- Division-level (Academic Affairs, Advancement, Business Affairs and Student Affairs) projects
- College-level (CAS, WCE, CSB, CHHS, and the Graduate School) projects
- Projects for Human Resources, OIDI, Cultural Arts, Athletics, Admissions, online/distance education, community-based programs and partnerships OLLI, QENO, military, town-gown efforts, etc. and
- Other areas as directed by university leadership, such as campus safety.

A key indicator of whether a project warrants OUR involvement is the size of the intended audience, as OUR resources are primarily dedicated to large-scale projects that serve wide audiences and/or convey strategic messages. Requests for support on such projects should be submitted via the Need OUR Help? button.

In cases of print or online materials that will be targeting or disseminated to a relatively small audience (i.e., only a segment of the campus or the public), campus units or departments should first consult with their respective communications liaison. (This does not apply to video/photography requests, which units/departments should submit via the Need OUR Help? button at UNCW.edu/our.)

Units or departments creating their own print or online materials, or utilizing external vendors to do so, should follow the Brand Identity Guide to determine proper usage of university colors and logos. For materials created by individual units/departments or contracted vendors that will be disseminated to a wide audience, OUR must approve final materials (submitted to UNCW.edu/our) and will do so in a timely manner – within 48 business hours for most projects.

To help support individual units’ promotional goals, OUR can provide materials (design files, access to photography archives, etc.) for use by external vendors. Time and resources permitting, OUR may lend creative or editorial support to limited-audience projects and will make every effort to do so.

NEED OUR HELP WITH DESIGN?

The Office of University Relations offers customized professional graphic design services for promotional materials that reflect institutional needs as outlined in the university’s strategic plan. This includes division or college-level projects, as well as projects that support enrollment, student retention, diversity and inclusion, military affairs, campus health and safety, athletics, large-scale community partnerships and other areas as directed by university leadership.

If you are uncertain where your project falls, please contact your area’s communications liaison, or submit an OUR request, and we’ll point you in the right direction.

As always, you can access the UNCW Photo Archive Database for a variety of approved images.

If you prefer to create your own materials using Adobe Creative Cloud or use the services of an off-campus designer, please refer to this Brand Identity Guide to learn about the proper use of colors and logos and the approval process for external designs. If materials will be disseminated to a wide audience, OUR must approve final materials before production and will do so in a timely manner. Submit a PDF proof via OUR@uncw.edu and someone will reply within 48 business hours for most materials.

Thank you for collaborating with OUR to help make UNCW shine!

WORKING WITH YOUR COMMUNICATIONS LIAISON

During the academic year, SWOOP is distributed every Tuesday morning. Submissions are due by noon on the previous Friday (excluding holidays/breaks). Here are some hints and guidelines to help make the submission process as easy as possible for you.

- We want to hear from all of you – any employee can submit to SWOOP!

- We want to promote events that are open to campus; please bear that in mind when submitting event listings so you aren’t accidentally inviting people to a closed event.

- You can use the submission form to send us items by Friday at noon the week before you’d like your news featured in SWOOP. Announcements will run once as a “new” item and again as a “reminder” (if applicable). Multiple-run requests for more coverage will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

- SWOOP is link-based. Please be sure your submission includes a link to a page within the UNCW website, and of course be sure that page includes complete, accurate, and updated information about your submission.

- SWOOP is a newsletter for faculty and staff. UNCW news or events that are meant for a student audience may be routed to the Hawk eNews. Please see their website for submission guidelines.

Official, approved policies relating to the Office of University Relations may be found on the policies page of the UNCW website uncw.edu/policies.

As part of UNCW’s commitment to experiential education, the Office of University Relations (OUR) is eager to support applied learning experiences that involve the creation of marketing, public relations and communications collateral. If that collateral will be used beyond the classroom to promote a unit, division or the university as a whole, OUR will work with faculty and students to ensure it aligns with institutional messaging and meets OUR guidelines before distribution. At faculty’s request, OUR can also provide content expertise; insights into the creative design, review and approval process; and other guidance that may support learning outcomes.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS: EXTERNAL-FACING

- If materials created within a class assignment will be shared with non-classroom audiences, including the community, media or other campus units for their use in marketing/promotion, the Office of University Relations must play a role in the development and approval of any print/digital collateral, website content, video production, logos or other communications content before it is shared or distributed externally (including on university or other websites).
- With the approval of the professor, a class project representative will submit a project request to OUR (uncw.edu/OUR), noting that it is an academic project that may be used for a UNCW unit with external audiences, its purpose and its deadline.
- OUR staff will set up a meeting with faculty members and student(s) to discuss the project with project representatives, consulting with faculty as needed.
- Students will perform the work required of their assignment. OUR can play as little or as much of a supporting role in this work as requested.
- OUR staff will review work and communicate any suggested changes to the students and professor in order to fulfill UNCW brand standards.
- Within the project parameters, students can implement changes, and if brand standards are met, OUR will approve the materials for external audience use. Students are responsible for sharing source/project files with OUR in case faculty or OUR requires their use or must update them in the future.

ACADEMIC PROJECTS: INTERNAL-FACING

As long as a project is devised for classroom purposes only, projects do not need to be brought to the attention of the Office of University Relations. However, OUR will gladly collaborate and accommodate requests for working with students on their projects. This refers to service learning and similar classroom projects.

UNIVERSITY NAME
The consistent use of the name University of North Carolina Wilmington plays a critical part in the university’s identity and, when used in conjunction with a college, school, department, center or any unit within UNCW, that use results in a positive identification for all units within the university.

The UNCW house logo or the UNCW logo (see page 19) must be on all printed and digital/video materials. For materials whose size may preclude the use of the full name (e.g., pens, space-limited ads, etc.), contact OUR.

On formal documentation such as diplomas, transcripts and contracts, the legal name of the university, The University of North Carolina at Wilmington, is required. Please note that this designation is used in limited situations. Please contact OUR for clarification.

CHANCELLOR’S NAME
The chancellor’s name should always appear as Jose V. Sartarelli. Do not use his nickname, “Zito,” in any reference. Chancellor or Dr. Sartarelli should be used on second reference, case by case as to the use of either.

• First reference to the university in a publication with internal and/or external audiences:
  University of North Carolina Wilmington

• Second reference to the university:
  UNC Wilmington, UNCW or the university

  Note: The name of the university does not contain hyphens or the word “at” and periods are not used with the initials UNCW.

  Unless it begins a sentence, university should not be capitalized.
The University of North Carolina Wilmington’s name, logos (academic and athletic) and seal are the property of the State of North Carolina. Use of UNCW logos must comply with UNCW policies, which apply to all visual representations of the university: signs, video productions, exhibit materials, social media, websites, etc., as well as printed and electronic publications. UNCW logos cannot be used in conjunction or partnership with a business, social, political, religious or any other organization, nor can they be used to imply or otherwise suggest the university’s endorsement with any organization, product or service without permission of the university.

It is the policy of UNCW that all visual communications bear its name and be consistent with uniformly high professional standards in content and appearance. This includes all colleges, schools, departments, programs and units of the university.

University departments may use most of the university marks in situations that indicate university ownership, sponsorship or participation. Use must be in accordance with any other applicable university policy, such as that regarding websites. Permission from UNCW licensing is required when using or reproducing the university’s marks for merchandise or other commercial material.

uncw.edu/licensing
The UNCW house or UNCW logo must be on all materials.
For materials whose size may preclude use of the full name (e.g., pens, space-limited ads, etc.), contact OUR.

UNCW HOUSE LOGO

UNCW’s house logo is critical to the university’s visual identity and is the university’s official identifying mark. The logo is used for academic and administrative purposes and must be used in its specified dimensions. It is trademarked and therefore cannot be redrawn, reconfigured, modified or altered in any way. It is not appropriate to stretch the logo to fit in a space, to add outlines or shadows to the image, to change colors or to remove any of the letters UNCW and replace them with another image, letters or word.

All UNCW house logos must be reproduced in the university’s official PMS colors in established combinations.

When reproduced in color, the house logo should always appear in the university’s signature color, teal (PMS 329). Acceptable secondary colors are navy (PMS 281), black or white (for “reverse outs” on dark backgrounds). When using PMS 281 or PMS 329 as a solid background color, use the reversed house logo. Contrast between the background and the house logo is crucial. University letterhead and business cards are the only exception where the house logo appears in navy (PMS 281) and gold (PMS 874).
VERBIAGE

Be mindful of register and trademark elements that accommodate university verbiage. These elements do not apply when the verbiage is used as text in a document or in materials.

“Feel the Teal” has been retired and is not to be used on any UNCW materials or in text.

UNCW 70th logo should no longer appear on any UNCW materials.

UNIVERSITY HOUSE LOGO AND UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA WILMINGTON

The UNCW house logo and University of North Carolina Wilmington must appear on the front or back cover of all university publications and advertisements including internal and external newsletters, memos and invitations.

When reproduced in color, the UNCW logo should always appear in the university’s signature color, teal (PMS 329). Acceptable secondary colors are navy (PMS 281), black or white (for “reverse outs” on dark backgrounds).

When the ink color in a one-color publication is to be something other than one of the official colors, the logo should be white (reversed out). When using navy (PMS 281) or teal (PMS 329) as a solid background color, use the reversed UNCW logo. Contrast between the background and the logo is crucial.

University letterhead and business cards are the only exception where the UNCW house logo appears in navy (PMS 281) and gold (PMS 874).

Contact the Office of University Relations at OUR@uncw.edu to acquire UNCW logos.
3 OPTIONS FOR UNCW LOGO

University of North Carolina Wilmington

University of North Carolina Wilmington

University of North Carolina Wilmington
For best brand identification, UNCW colleges, schools, departments, divisions and programs must use the house logo with the name of the unit centered either below the base or to the right of the logo. When there is more than one unit, apply styles 2 or 4.

Contact OUR@uncw.edu to acquire your college, school, departmental, division or program logos.

Programmatic differentiation may be achieved through illustrations accompanied by the program’s name. Any illustrations or graphics combined with the name of any UNCW unit must be approved by the art director in the Office of University Relations. These graphics are not official UNCW marks and must only be used internally.

Programs funded by grants are considered university programs, and use of these program logos with the university logo must be approved by the art director in the Office of University Relations. These programs should always be identified with UNCW, by using either the university name or logo.

Student showcase posters can incorporate the UNCW house logo for academic purposes only. The UNCW house logo must be requested by the faculty member by emailing OUR@uncw.edu.

UNCW LETTERS

The use of the letters, UNCW, in a graphic design, is protected by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. Since the registration is designed to protect the use of the letters as university identification, a designer has artistic license in using the letters in a design. With that license, the university expects a tasteful design to positively reflect on the university. All usages of the UNCW letters in a graphic design require the approval of the Office of University Relations. When used as text in a document, the ® is not required.

UNIVERSITY SEAL

The seal of the University of North Carolina Wilmington is used to authenticate official university documents and to communicate the significance of special occasions and events. It is reserved for more formal uses such as graduation programs, transcripts, diplomas, annual reports and certificates. It may be watermarked into official letterhead. The seal is not a university logo and is not interchangeable with the UNCW house logo. The seal is a federally registered trademark. Due to the restrictive nature of its use, it does not require the ® on materials produced by UNCW.

Use of the university seal is not for use on merchandise. However, some exceptions are made for use on merchandise of distinction. Visit UNCW licensing for clarification at uncw.edu/licensing.
PROPER USE OF ATHLETIC LOGOS

- Before using athletic logos, familiarize yourself with UNCW licensing policies: uncw.edu/licensing/policies
- If you need a logo image file, please contact Trademark Licensing at licensing@uncw.edu.

It cannot be distorted, redrawn, repositioned or used with pattern and texture backgrounds. Only athletics is permitted to use backgrounds other than a solid color. It cannot be used in place of the UNCW house logo for academic purposes. It must be used with a UNCW unit name that includes the letter UNCW with the type positioned under or beside the logo. The letters UNCW does require the registered ® when used as part of the unit name. The verbiage University of North Carolina Wilmington is not to be used with this logo as it only applies to the official university logo.

The mascot can be used in a variety of ways, yet must retain the distinctive design features – eyebrows, beak, wings, athletic build, pose and appropriate school colors. All design renditions of Sammy C. Hawk must be approved by OUR.

Restriction:
The Seahawk Spirit Mark is limited to internal UNCW use and cannot be used on apparel and accessories that will be sold to the public.
ABOUT UNCW LICENSING AND TRADEMARKS

Since 1947, the University of North Carolina Wilmington has been recognized via a variety of symbols and designs as well as words, phrases and letters that identify the university and symbolize its mission, values and traditions.

To protect ownership of its intellectual property, UNCW has developed policies and procedures regarding the use of its name and marks. Per our licensing policy, any vendor producing products imprinted with our indicia will need to become a licensed vendor. Both internal (on-campus departments) and external (bookstore, retail locations) orders require a license.

UNCW’s collegiate licensing partner, Collegiate Licensing Company (CLC), administers the licensing process on our behalf; in addition to the collection of royalties, enforcing trademarks and pursuing new marketing opportunities for the University. Visit their website https://clc.com/home/about/ for general information regarding The Collegiate Licensing Company.

If you do not see a UNCW licensed vendor that meets your needs, please contact OUR or licensing for a one-time use license.

UNCW LOGO USAGE BY BUSINESSES

UNCW logos are the property of UNCW, and use of logos must comply with UNCW policies. Per our licensing policy, if vendors are producing products imprinted with our indicia, they will need to become a licensed vendor. Both internal (on-campus departments) and external (bookstore, retail locations) orders require a license.

UNCW LICENSING FOR UNIVERSITY DEPARTMENTS AND STUDENTS

No department, division or organization may authorize the production of merchandise bearing the university’s name or logo, or authorize or produce items that combine the logo with any other name or logo unless approved by UNCW Licensing and all appropriate administrative office(s).

Goods to be used by a division, department or organization of the university bearing UNCW trademarked marks, logos or phrases must be obtained from a licensed manufacturer and submitted and approved by UNCW Licensing prior to production. Contact licensing@uncw.edu with questions.

Consistent use of this guide’s color palette in your communications creates a strong association with the university.

PRIMARY PRINT COLOR PALETTE

The official colors of UNCW are the teal of the ocean, the gold of the sand and the navy of the deep ocean.

Teal should appear on all communications that use color.

Secondary colors allow for variations of our official colors when more or less contrast is needed between a set of colors.

Support colors are accent colors and should never be the dominant color palette in a design.

PMS (Pantone Matching System), CMYK (cyan, magenta, yellow, black), RGB (red, green, blue) and HTML (hexadecimal) values are assigned to each official color.

For process printing, CMYK values are:

- PMS 329 = C - 100 M - 0 Y - 46 K - 46
- PMS 281 = C - 100 M - 55 Y - 0 K - 65
- PMS 120 = C - 0 M - 6 Y - 56 K - 0

For those working in programs that support RGB and hexadecimal color values, the following values should be used:

- PMS 329 = R - 0 G - 112 B - 115
- PMS 281 = R - 0 G - 51 B - 102
- PMS 120 = R - 249 G - 227 B - 127

- PMS 329 = #006666
- PMS 281 = #003366
- PMS 120 = #f3e389

For textiles, the closest suggested matches are:

- PMS 329 = #18-4728
- PMS 120 = #12-0736
- PMS 281 = #19-3864

GENERAL NOTES ON TYPOGRAPHY

1. Avoid condensing or stretching the typeface. Use the condensed or extended version within the font family.

2. Use all-uppercase sparingly as it is difficult to read; all-uppercase lettering should be used only for emphasis or headlines.

3. Use script fonts sparingly. Never use a script font in all-uppercase, as below. HARD TO READ

   It is the policy of UNCW that all visual communications bear its name and be consistent with uniformly high professional standards in content and appearance. This includes all colleges, schools, departments, programs and units of the university.

5. Avoid underlined text; use italic or bold instead.

6. Do not use double spaces between sentences. One space is standard.

7. “Leading” is the amount of space between two lines of text. For body copy, set your leading to two or three points higher than the type size. (if your type size is 12 pt., set your leading at 14 or 15 pt.). Leading in headlines, display type, introductory paragraphs, etc. may vary.

Consistent use of typefaces is the most important element in establishing a unified style for UNCW publications and other print and digital media.

The primary print typefaces are Palatino, a serif font, and Helvetica, a sans serif font. Both fonts are available from various font houses in the recommended OpenType format. OpenType is a cross-platform file format that is compatible on both Apple and Windows computers.

If you do not have access to these typefaces, you can substitute with the following:

- Times, Times New Roman
- Utopia
- Minion Pro
- Georgia

- Arial
- Calibri

The Photographic Services Unit produces photographic representation of the university as a whole. This includes developing and implementing creative strategies for internal and external use that support the chancellor’s vision for the university. Contact Media Production with questions about photographic services.

Departments, faculty and staff who want to use images of UNCW on approved websites and in campus-sponsored publications can access the Office of University Relations Photo Archive Database (OUR PAD) https://uncwphotography.photoshelter.com/index#!/index

Access is limited to faculty, staff and approved student workers. An email must be sent to Jeff Janowski, photo services manager, to approve any student for download permissions (janowskij@uncw.edu).

If you are a first-time user of the photo management system, you will need to create a login identity using your UNCW email as your login name. Also send photo services an email alerting us to your new login request.

University Relations prioritizes photography coverage to ensure that images from campus-related events can be used in multiple internal and external publications.

PRIORITIES INCLUDE:

- Publications produced by the Office of University Relations
- Media/community outreach
- UNCW homepage

As a public university, UNC Wilmington uses staff-produced images of public campus life, events, ceremonies and other activities to advance the mission of the university.

All photographs created by the University Relations staff are the property of UNC Wilmington and are available for non-commercial use by UNCW’s students, faculty and staff and, with prior approval, off-campus media outlets and publications. Images should be credited as “Photographer’s name/UNCW” in all print and electronic publications.

University photography may not be used for commercial gain, sold in part or in total or used as stock photography. Prior approval from UNCW Photo Services is required before any photograph is digitally altered in a manner that changes its editorial representation. Digitally altered photos must also be clearly identified as “photo illustrations.”

The university photographer may refer other requests for photography to an approved freelance photographer. Such requests for freelance referrals can include:

- Events not promoted by the Office of University Relations
- Departments requesting photography for internal/external publications or archives (e.g., brochures, newsletters, departmental web pages)
- Alumni, student, faculty and staff celebrations, including birthday and retirement parties
- Social and event photography, including photos presented as gifts
- After-hours and weekend events
- Department- or school-specific workshops, conferences and symposiums hosted on or off campus
Every image represents UNCW. Choose carefully. Less is more. One image with a strong focal point is more dynamic than several small photos grouped together.

Images that bleed (extend beyond the edge of the page) on all four sides are preferred on cover designs.

Use high-resolution photos required for detailed reproduction such as printing. Image resolution is the amount of detail an image contains. Photography less than 300 dpi (dots per inch) should not be used in print publications. Photos that are 72 dpi are suitable only for web use.

Do not change 72 dpi images to 300 dpi. Detail cannot be enhanced if it is already a low-resolution image. A 300 dpi image can be adjusted to a lower dpi, but the image will lose detail. Only resize and scale images using photo editing software.

Selectively crop image.
Do not crop out important areas that destroy the image's composition, such as the ornate columns.

Images should always be scaled proportionately. Do not stretch or squeeze an image to fit the layout.
UNCW stationery with the university logo, such as letterhead, envelopes and business cards, is only available to faculty and staff. Printing Services makes it easy to submit your business card, letterhead and envelope orders. All official UNCW stationery must contain university addresses and phone numbers only. Personal content is not permitted.

- Submit a SeaPrint Access Form
  Printing Services will notify the user by email when SeaPrint access has been granted. Once access has been granted, authorized users will then be able to login to SeaPrint via UBusiness.

- Log into UBusiness using your UNCW email address and password.

- Click on the SeaPrint link.

Once you have filled in all the required information, you will be able to soft-proof your business cards, letterhead stationery and envelope orders in real time by clicking the preview button.

PLEASE PROOF CAREFULLY and make any needed corrections. The printed item will be produced just as the proof on the SeaPrint order page appears.

If your business card or stationery does not fit within the provided templates, you will need to create a custom order by submitting a Request for Printing Services form. (You can retrieve the form from UBusiness.) These orders will be processed and printed at a higher cost than template orders.

Color options for business cards, letterhead and envelopes are also available in:

- PMS 329 (teal)
- PMS 281 (blue)
- Black
- PMS metallic 874 and PMS 281 (as shown here)

OUR must approve any deviations from the standard business card format.

Only official university phone numbers, email and website addresses are permitted.

Contact Printing Services Customer Service for assistance at 962.3289.

Please submit other printing job requests to printingservices@uncw.edu
To maintain a consistent look for audiences, a series of PowerPoint themes are available for presentation needs.

PowerPoint themes are designed for 10x7.5 inch slide and 13.33x7.5 inch slide formats.

PowerPoint teal is:
R 35   G 127   B 131

FONTS:
Times New Roman and Calibri are common on both Macs and PCs. Times may be substituted with Georgia or Palatino and Calibri may be substituted with Arial or Verdana.

Please note that when creating large and/or high-resolution files, or altering background images within these templates, you may encounter unavoidable technical difficulties with PowerPoint (slow loading, decreased rate of keyboard response, etc.). If you require assistance, please contact OUR@uncw.edu.

- Length of newsletters should average 4 to 6 pages
- Highlight key news that an audience won’t receive via other channels, versus including all information
- Track open rate of newsletters when applicable to determine audience interest and engagement

These guidelines apply to email messages sent from university-owned computers and mobile devices using Outlook, Entourage or Outlook Web Access through the university Microsoft Exchange Server. Of primary concern are external communications with business partners, vendors and the community because email signatures can be a tool to project a positive image and branding message for UNC Wilmington.

The format of one’s email should be professional in terms of signature and other formatting. Email signatures should follow certain guidelines to fit with the overall branding initiative at UNCW. As such, the style of address, tone, spelling, grammar and punctuation of all messages should reflect the standards of formal business communication.

Use of images in email signatures is limited to official UNCW indicia, such as the UNCW house, Seahawk athletics or Seahawk spirit logo.

Any questions regarding these guidelines should be directed to the Office of University Relations at OUR@uncw.edu.

Signatures Should Use:
- Plain text format to easily accommodate all types of users
- Consistent font, teal and size for all parts – body, header and signature
- A pipe “|” in bold to separate items

What Should Be Included In An Email Signature:
- Name
- Job title | department
- University of North Carolina Wilmington
- Telephone and/or fax numbers (using periods, not dashes)

- Background images or stationery
- Personal quotes (RefRAINing from the use of quotes or epigraphs is best practice for professional communications. It is important to avoid the potential confusion of external audiences assuming a particular statement represents the university’s official slogan, ideology or brand promise.)

COMING SOON

The university is currently undergoing a review and redesign of the entire university website. A style guide for web content management will be provided in conjunction with BIG when the new website is launched in fall 2021.

UNCW CONTENT MANAGER COMMUNITY

Visit Web Publishing on the UNCW website at www.uncw.edu/web for information about online content manager training, forms, policies and best practices for web content management at UNCW.

WEBSITE PROJECTS

To start a web project, fill out a support request form at www.uncw.edu/OUR.

For more information about website project resources, guidelines and processes, please visit the content manager website at uncw.edu/web.

The UNCW website is a critical tool for informational and marketing purposes and is a key conveyor of the university’s image. It should be readily apparent to users that each page of the site is associated with the University of North Carolina Wilmington, and a professional and consistent “look and feel” must be maintained throughout the university’s web pages.

UNCW’s Office of University Relations is responsible for general oversight and organization of content for the university website. Our staff works closely with UNCW Information and Technology Systems to develop and maintain standards of style throughout the pages of the website.

University Relations also assists UNCW web content contributors in developing their messages and presenting information on divisional or departmental websites to ensure that visitors enjoy a smooth navigation experience and readily find the information they need.
ITS-approved content management systems must be used to maintain UNCW web pages. This helps to ensure that UNCW web pages:

- Complement the UNCW homepage
- Contain common elements of design
- Utilize a consistent navigation structure
- Print well
- Meet accessibility requirements
- Display and function properly on various platforms and browsers

The content management systems provide benefits to content managers. For example:

- Posting and editing information requires basic techniques without requiring technical expertise
- Style questions are simplified, since the templates automate the masthead, colors and typography on each page

NOTE:
All UNCW-related websites, whether developed by UNCW staff or contracted vendors, and whether hosted on or off campus servers, must be approved by the campus webmaster, ITS and OUR prior to launch.

Content managers are expected to be familiar with, and comply with, the Responsible Use of Electronic Resources Policy. The university reserves the right to edit or remove content that is deemed to be in conflict with this policy.

All UNCW content managers are required to take content manager training before receiving access to edit their websites. See uncw.edu/web for details.

Undergraduates are not allowed access to the main uncw.edu server. Graduate students may be given access by filling out a Request to Grant Graduate Student Access to Website Directory PDF form. uncw.edu/web
PHOTOS

A variety of approved UNCW photos are also available on the university's photo management system, https://uncwphotography.photoshelter.com/index#!/index. See section 10.

Content managers may insert photographs they obtain within the editable regions of their web pages, providing that copyright and privacy laws are not violated.

Note: Copyright enforcements of unauthorized use of photographs are some of the most aggressive actions instituted by copyright holders. If content managers have not secured permission to use selected photos, or possess satisfactory evidence the photo(s) are in the public domain or have been donated for use, the photo(s) must not be used.

Unless attribution rights have been waived by the photographer or copyright holder(s), photo credit attribution should always be included. If the information is not available, the photo must be in the public domain or expressly donated for the proposed use.

All images, photographs, drawings or artwork should contain an alt attribute (alternative text). Alt text makes images accessible for people who use screen readers or who browse with images off.

Using alt text is required to make pages accessible. The alt text should clearly describe the graphic, in as few—and descriptive—words as possible. For example, “sycamore tree” rather than “tree”; or “A huge sycamore tree at the corner of Oleander and College Road in Wilmington, N.C.”

USE OF UNIVERSITY PHOTOGRAPHY

All photographs created by OUR staff are the property of UNC Wilmington and are available for non-commercial use by UNCW’s students, faculty and staff and, with prior approval, off-campus media outlets and publications. Images should be credited as “UNCW/photographer’s name” in all print and electronic publications.

Any other use of OUR-produced photographs must be approved by UNCW OUR.

These images may NOT be used for commercial gain, sold in part or in total or used as stock photography. Prior approval from UNCW Photo Services is required before any photograph is digitally altered in a manner that changes its editorial representation. Digitally altered photos must also be clearly identified as “photo illustrations.”

If you have questions regarding the use of UNCW photographic images, please contact OUR@uncw.edu. See section 10.
REPRODUCTION OF COPYRIGHTED MATERIAL

In order to place copyright-protected material, such as text, photos, audio, video or other documents, on a university web page, the content manager must obtain prior written permission from the copyright owner(s) as applicable.

The Office of General Counsel is available to assist content managers in ascertaining whether subject material constitutes public domain or proprietary content and, if copyright protected, how to secure permission for its proposed use.

Please see the UNCW name and logos section on page 17 of this guide for details on the use of UNCW protected names, marks and logos. Additional online resources may be found at:

- UNCW Website Copyright Notice
- Copyright Use and Ownership Policy
COMPLYING WITH THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT (ADA)

UNCW web pages must be available, accessible and usable to as many people as possible. Content managers are responsible for helping ensure that UNCW web pages meet current accessibility standards for visitors with disabilities, including those defined by Section 508 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act as well as, at minimum, Priority 1 of the World Wide Web Consortium’s Web Content Accessibility Guidelines.

By default, the use of the UNCW templates will make most web pages fully accessible to visitors with disabilities, as required.

However, certain content still requires manual work by content managers to ensure accessibility.

Text
Content managers should use the pre-designated UNCW styles (that is, typefaces, point sizes and colors) available in the templates.

To comply with ADA policies and the functionality of automatic readers, content managers need to use the headings in the consecutive order in which they are listed in the styles area.

The use of the styles for typography helps ensure that UNCW’s web pages will be consistent when viewed on a computer with a web browser or with a handheld device and when printed.

Note: These specially-designed styles permit visitors to increase or decrease the display size of the text in their browsing software per their vision needs. This increases the ADA accessibility and functionality of UNCW web pages.

Tables and charts
The use of tables as charts (that is, tables that use columns and rows to organize text content) requires an extra step on the part of the content manager to ensure that this information is appropriately ADA-accessible. Specifically, the content manager must specify a “header row” to ensure the rows and columns are read in an understandable order by screen readers.

Page titles
Web page titles follow this convention:
Page: Department: Division: UNCW. Start from a specific description of your page and progress to the more general description.

• For example: Transfer Application:
  Admissions: UNCW
LINKS TO COMMERCIAL WEBSITES

In order to link to a commercial organization’s website, the content manager must demonstrate the following:

- The organization has an active role in service delivery to the university,

- The link is functioning as a means of acknowledgement to organizations that facilitate the university’s mission through financial support or gifts in kind, or

- The links are used in a compilation of hyperlinks which provide reference information and/or contribute to the university’s mission. In this situation, the following disclaimer should be included above or below the list of links:

“The links provided on these pages are intended to acquaint the users of this site with information, services and organizations at UNCW, online and in the local community. UNCW is not responsible for the content or maintenance of linked sites, and cannot vouch for the accuracy of information or material contained thereon.”

Note: Advertising and links to pages that directly sell products are not permitted on university web pages, including personal web pages.

MULTIMEDIA (AUDIO, VIDEO, INTERACTIVE FLASH)

Audio and video files in any format, either for download or streaming, should not be placed on the main UNCWWEB server due to disk space limitations. Rather, these files should be placed on the UNCWMEDIA1 server.

Due to accessibility limitations, Shockwave Flash (.swf) files may only be used for non-critical, non-navigational parts of a UNCW web page. Content in the Flash file should be made functional in another available format.

In addition, the content manager must provide text transcripts for audio and video in order to make the content accessible to visitors with disabilities.
WEB COLORS

In the style color palette the RGB equivalents of UNCW's official colors are:

Teal = R - 0   G - 112   B - 115
Blue = R - 0   G - 51    B - 102

The hex code equivalents are teal #007073 and blue #003366.

Content managers should make sure content utilizes these official colors.

LOGOS

The use of various logos as content within the editable regions of the templates should be in accordance with the UNCW names and logos policies. See page 17.

For more information on the use of logos, contact the Office of University Relations.

CONTRACTED WORK AND VENDOR-HOSTED WEBSITES

All new official websites, whether developed by UNCW staff or contracted vendors, and whether hosted on or off campus, must be approved by the campus webmaster and OUR prior to launch. All vendors must be approved vendors sanctioned by the university.

Request for Proposals (RFPs) and Contracts

Both the campus webmaster and OUR should be made aware of the RFP process and should review contracts established with contractors and vendors to ensure that this style guide and important legal, marketing and compliance requirements for web pages are addressed, including accessibility for disabled visitors and Payment Card Industry (PCI) Data Security Standard compliance for e-commerce transactions.
Contracted work to be hosted on UNCW web servers

Web pages developed by non-university personnel, such as web design contractors, for use on UNCW web servers must not include references or hyperlinks to the contractor. Exceptions may be made when a vendor provides an exclusive service to the university. Contact the campus webmaster for details.

All contracts or agreements for outside design services must require that pages and related materials (HTML, graphics, multimedia, etc.) hosted on UNCW servers become the sole property of UNCW.

Vendor-hosted websites

If it appears that UNCW might be responsible for the content or maintenance of a vendor-hosted website but is not, the site’s homepage should display the following sentence:

“This website is provided as a convenience, program or public service. The operator and/or users are solely responsible for the content; UNCW neither contributes to nor maintains website content.”

Vendor-hosted websites with “UNCW” in the domain name

Vendor-hosted websites that include “UNCW” in their domain name (e.g., uncwtickets.com) should contain specific elements that identify the site with UNCW.

- The homepage must display the UNCW house logo, which is the same as the logo in the upper left-hand corner of the UNCW homepage. The vendor-hosted website with the UNCW in the domain name must provide a hyperlink to the UNCW homepage from the UNCW house logo. The vendor should employ XHTML-compliant code that includes a full URL reference to the specific image file on the UNCWEB server.

  The code for this is:

  `<img alt="University of North Carolina Wilmington home" src="http://www.uncw.edu/_files/foundation/uncw.gif"/>`

- The pages must meet current accessibility standards, including those defined by the Section 508 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act as well as, at minimum, Priority 1 of the World Wide Web Consortium’s Web Content Accessibility Guidelines.

- The site must offer UNCW contact information (email address and/or phone number).
WEBSITES WITHOUT “UNCW” IN THE DOMAIN NAME

Websites that do not include “UNCW” in their domain name are not required to follow the style guidelines of this document. However:

- If the university contributes resources to the development or hosting of such a site, the site may acknowledge the university’s contributions. If so, a sentence may appear in the footer of the homepage, choosing applicable verbiage:
  “The University of North Carolina Wilmington (UNCW) provides [technical services] and/or [funding] for this website project.”

- The words “University of North Carolina Wilmington” should link to the UNCW homepage, https://uncw.edu.

CELL PHONES AND HANDHELD TECHNOLOGY

The templates described above are designed to present information properly on handheld devices such as smartphones.

Questions should be directed to ITS and the campus webmaster.

DOMAINS, SUBDOMAINS, POINTERS AND DOMAIN MASKING

To purchase an off-campus domain name containing “UNCW” (e.g. uncwtickets.com), a UNCW department should:

1. Check availability of the domain via a domain name registrar;
2. Contact OUR for approval and/or recommendations; and
3. Once approved, purchase the domain using a UNCW account to ensure it is owned by the university.

Requests for subdomains (e.g., jobs.uncw.edu) and requests for pointers (e.g., www.uncw.edu/housing) must be approved by the campus webmaster and OUR. Pointers are recommended over sub-domains.

Domain masking of web pages on UNCW web servers is not permitted without approval by the campus webmaster and OUR. If approved, the masked pages must still acknowledge the university’s contributions to the hosting of the pages.
SOCIAL MEDIA AND SOCIAL SOFTWARE (BLOGS, FORUMS, WIKIS)

Blogs, forums and wikis are examples of computer-mediated communication tools, often referred to as social software, for which certain requirements must be met in order to provide a safe and legal environment for users. UNCW groups interested in launching social software are asked to consult with the campus webmaster, general counsel and OUR prior to release.

Faculty, staff and student organizations are encouraged to use mySeaport, the campus portal, for group communication such as file sharing, message boards, photo sharing and chat. Any use of the official UNCW house logo by administrative units on a social software site must have prior approval from OUR. Student organizations may not use the UNCW house logo on any social software site that is not located on the university server. OUR reserves the right to edit or remove content that is deemed to be objectionable or counter to the university’s mission and/or strategic goals.

Note: Please contact OUR with questions regarding the use of Twitter, Facebook, YouTube and any social media tools.

Please direct any questions or concerns related to the website not addressed here to the campus webmaster and/or OUR.

When a dog bites a man, that is not news, but when a man bites a dog, that is news.

— Charles Anderson Dana, American journalist

One key objective of the OUR team is to promote the vision and mission of UNCW via media outreach. It is important to understand that media receive hundreds, sometimes thousands, of pitches daily... and our office receives hundreds of story ideas each month. Here's how to help us help YOU.

WHAT IS NEWS?

Can you answer “yes” to at least two of the below questions? If so, please contact us with your story idea.

- Does your news have broad appeal to more than one audience? Will it have a direct impact on them?
- Is your news item happening in the coming weeks? The more lead time we have, the better!
- Is it research that challenges old assumptions?
- Does your item tie into a current event?

If your event, research, news, etc., relates to something that is currently in the news, it allows us to add to that storyline, making your item more valuable to media.

- Are there heartstrings or purse strings involved? Human interest pieces, grants and donations can all help garner media coverage.
- Is there a visual component? Being able to offer a great image or video to run alongside a story boosts our chances of media interest.

What misses the mark?

- News that has already been announced.
- Workshops, conferences without widely known speakers or confirmed guests, or events that aren’t open to the public.
- Expected outcomes (versus confirmed outcomes).
INTERACTION WITH MEDIA

As a North Carolina public agency, the University of North Carolina Wilmington (UNCW) has a responsibility to provide accredited news media outlets with access to its campus, employees and public information, while respecting and protecting the privacy and personal information of students, faculty and staff. Interaction with external media outlets on behalf of the university is overseen and coordinated by the Office of University Relations (OUR).

Spokespersons

• Only OUR staff and other employees who have been designated by the Chancellor as spokespersons of the university may make statements on behalf of the university.

• Any inquiries from media representatives received by university employees requesting information or comment from them as to the university’s statement or position regarding a matter must be directed to OUR.

Athletics information

• Information relating to student-athletes, coaches and staff in the Department of Athletics is the responsibility of sports information and the associate athletic director for communications.

University news releases

Although individual departments may draft their own press releases, all media releases, media advisories and plans for press conferences must be reviewed, approved and distributed by OUR prior to dissemination. Other colleges, schools, departments or offices may not independently release information to the news media.

Personal expression

UNCW employees and students may always choose to speak with representatives of the media in order to express their personal position or opinion, but they do not have to do so. If they do so, they are requested to clarify and distinguish that it is a personal opinion when doing so and that they are not giving it by virtue of their position at the university. As a courtesy, employees are strongly encouraged to inform OUR when they have spoken with a media representative, but are not under any obligation to do so.

For information regarding media relations policies contact our@uncw.edu.

VIDEO SPECIFICATIONS FOR WEB

• Aspect ratio of 16:9 or 4:3 is required
  ○ Videos not originally in those ratios should be padded or cropped to appear in those ratios.

• Framerate
  ○ 24 or 3 frames per second (fps) is recommended.

• Technical
  ○ Bitrate
    A variety of bitrates may be used depending on your target audience. The higher the bitrate, the better the quality, but the more demanding it is on your viewers’ Internet connection. A rate of 800-1200Kb/s is required as the best quality and bandwidth-friendly range.

Because consistency and continuity in publications and other marketing materials are extremely important in the overall communications efforts of UNCW, the following university style guide has been established for use in university publications.

UNCW editorial style conforms with the widely embraced practices of today’s academic, public relations and news authorities on style.

Editorial style has to do with a set of judgments about what is grammatically correct, consistency in punctuation, capitalization and what usage is acceptable. Is “university” capitalized when referring to UNCW? How are academic degrees abbreviated? Is “fall semester” capitalized?

UNCW editorial style does not apply to monographs, scholarly research, journal articles, faculty-written books or articles, dissertations or the like. The UNCW editorial style is accepted for UNCW’s communications such as brochures, catalogues, flyers, newsletters, posters University Relations publications, social media and the like.

Text will be modified to UNCW editorial style first. Any element in question will then fall by default to the rules and regulations of the Associated Press Stylebook and Libel Manual and Merriam-Webster’s Collegiate Dictionary.

ABBREVIATIONS

The first mention of any organization, firm, agency or group should be spelled out.

When using acronyms, spell out the phrase on the first reference followed by the acronym. For example, renewable energy certificates (RECs). In general, avoid alphabet soup. Do not use abbreviations or acronyms that the reader would not quickly recognize.

Examples of abbreviations:
- a.m. and p.m.
  (not pm, P.M., or PM; avoid o’clock)
  see time of day on page 78
- A.D. and B.C.
  (B.C. goes before a date, A.D. follows it)

ABBREVIATIONS WITH NAMES

Use the abbreviations Sr., Jr., II, III for Senior, Junior, Second, Third following a full name. Never use the spelled-out words or the abbreviations with the surname alone. Please note there is not a comma before the abbreviations.
- Robert Smith Jr.
- Mrs. Robert L. Smith Sr.
- Adlai E. Stevenson III

Abbreviate civil, military, professional or religious titles when used before a full name.
- Sen. William Smith
- Gov. Joe Smith
- Rev. Robert Smith
DIVERSITY, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

A glossary of terms related to diversity, equity and inclusion can be found on the website for the Office of Institutional Diversity and Inclusion under “Research and Resources.” Please understand terms are ever-evolving. Contact OIDI@uncw.edu if you find any outdated terms or suggest terms that we should consider adding to the list.

ACADEMIC DEGREES

Capitalize when the complete name of the degree is given. There is no possessive.

- Bachelor of Arts in history
- Master of Science in biology

Lowercase if no particular degree is mentioned.

- She received a bachelor of arts degree.

Lowercase academic degrees.

- bachelor's, master's, doctorate

The terms “bachelor’s degree” and “master’s degree” require apostrophes.

When using abbreviations for degrees, please note: two-letter degrees have periods, and three-letter degrees do not.

Ed.D. and Ph.D. retain the two periods

- B.A., BFA, B.S., BSW, Ed.D., M.A., MAT, MBA, M.Ed., MFA, MPA, M.S., MSA, Ph.D.
- Exception: MCRT (post-baccalaureate certificate), PCRT (post-master's certificate)

The word “doctorate” is a noun, and “doctoral” is an adjective.

ACADEMIC DISCIPLINES

Lowercase the names of academic disciplines, with the exception of proper nouns.

- accounting majors, a major in business with an emphasis in accounting, a biology major, a geography major

Always capitalize languages.

- English major, French major

ALUMNI

Alumni are identified by listing the last two digits of their graduation years (with an apostrophe) following their names.

- Randall Stuckey ’83.
  (Be careful – some programs autoformat and turn the apostrophe around.)

“Alumnus” is the singular, masculine form; for references to women, use “alumna” (singular) or “alumnae” (plural). “Alumni” may serve as the plural for a group that is composed of men only or of men and women together. For those who may prefer not to identify by gender, using “alum” is recommended. The graduation year following the person’s name indicates alumni status, so to say “Alum Randall Stuckey ’83” is redundant. (In this case, just use the person’s name and grad year.)

APOSTROPHES

Form the possessive singular of nouns by adding “ ’s.”

- Steve’s pencil
- Marx’s theories

Singular proper nouns ending in “s”

- Dickens’s novels

Plural possessives are formed by adding “s’” unless the word has a special plural construction that does not end in “s.”

- Students’ rights
- Women’s studies
Plurals of words should NOT contain apostrophes.

- Keep up with the Joneses, not the Jones’s
- thousands of items, not thousand’s

One exception is plurals of single letters, which may require an apostrophe to avoid misinterpretation.

- She earned all A’s.

REMINDER: “It’s” ALWAYS means “it is”; the pronoun possessive is “its” – with NO apostrophe.

The university celebrated its golden anniversary.

CAPITALIZATION

The university style is basically “downstyle.” This means, in general, avoid unnecessary use of capitals. Sentences read more smoothly if the eye isn’t stopped by frequent capitals.

Academic departments, administrative offices and facilities of UNCW are capitalized when the complete and official designation is used. They are lowercase on second reference.

- Division of Student Affairs
- the division
- Department of Film Studies
- Warwick Center
- the center
- geology department

Lowercase fields of study except when a proper noun is part of the name.

- biology
- English

Capitalize official names of organizations and major historical events. (Some organizations have unusual capitalizations or typography; follow their individual usage, e.g., HarperCollins, U.S. News & World Report)

Capitalize the following when the complete title is used, lowercase on second reference:

- Agencies
- Committees
- Boards
- Programs
- Course titles
- Named or distinguished professorships
- Named scholarships, awards
- The word “room” when used to designate a location
- Titles of campus activities
- All words, except articles, conjunctions and prepositions, in the titles of books and plays
- Words designating specific geographical regions

Lowercase the words “division,” “school,” “department,” “office,” “committee,” “board,” “college,” “southeastern” etc., on second and subsequent abbreviated reference.

Lowercase “city of Wilmington” and “state of North Carolina” except when referring to the city’s or state’s government or in legal contexts calling for a corporate name.
• The governor of the state of North Carolina attended the event.
• UNCW received a grant from the State of North Carolina and the City of Fayetteville.

COMMAS
Use commas to separate elements in a series, but do not put a comma before the conjunction in a simple series.
• The flag is red, white and blue.
• He would nominate Tom, Mary or Carol.
Put a comma before the concluding conjunction in a series when there is more than one conjunction in that series.
• We invited professors from the biology, English, and philosophy and religion departments.

DATES
Spell out the name of a month when it stands alone or with the year only. When a month is used with a specific date, abbreviate only Jan., Feb., Aug., Sept., Oct., Nov. and Dec.

Put a comma before and after the year when used with month and date, but do not use a comma when a time period is expressed with month and year.
• The celebration will be held in February.
• The events of February 2020 are recorded in this paper.
• The events planned for Dec. 31, 2020, should be interesting.
• January 2007 was a rainy month.
Always use Arabic figures. Do not use st, nd, rd or th.
• Dec. 31 not Dec. 31st

Centuries and decades
• 18th century, 60s, not sixties
In decades identified with their centuries, use figures and omit apostrophes.
• 1860s, 1930s

EMAIL
The word email is not hyphenated.

When transferring email copy to publications, make sure quotation marks and apostrophes are converted from straight quotes – " and ' – (which are used to designate inches and feet) to smart quotes – “ and ’ – and make sure all hard returns are removed within paragraphs.

FRESHMAN, SOPHOMORE, JUNIOR, SENIOR
Lowercase except at the beginning of a sentence.
• The freshman class
• A group of freshmen

HYPHENATION
Use a hyphen to connect two or more words used as a modifier.
• He teaches full time.
• He has a full-time job.
• She is teaching an off-campus course.
• She teaches off campus.
Do not use a hyphen to connect “-ly” adverbs to the words they modify.

• A heavily loaded truck

Suspend hyphens in a series.

• Do you want first-, business- or economy-class tickets?

NUMBERS

Spell numbers one through nine (and zero); use numerals for 10 and higher. Use either all numerals or all words when several numbers appear together in a passage, even if convention would require a mixture.

Ages should be noted with Arabic numerals.

• 12 years old, a 29-year-old man (note the hyphens)

Arabic numerals are used with very large numbers (i.e., a million or larger).

• 7.5 billion

Monetary figures and percentages are also indicated with Arabic numerals.

• $5, $15.80, $150 million, 8 percent (spell out percent).

When a number is the first word of a sentence, it should be spelled out. However, the sentence usually can be reworked to avoid having to spell out a large or hyphenated number, a monetary figure or a percentage.

Spell out fractional amounts that are less than one in text copy, using hyphens between the words.

• one-half, three-sixteenths

Use figures for all fractions larger than one, employing split or “case” fractions (i.e., single units) wherever possible. If type fonts create fractions as single units (for example, ¼ or ½, use these); other fractions need to be constructed with a slash (using a hyphen as well to clarify; note that the form is an exception to Associated Press style, which was developed for newspaper typography).

Convert to decimals whenever practical.

• 4-3/16 should be 4.1875

PERCENT

In general, use the word “percent.” However, the symbol % can be used in scientific, technical and statistical copy.

PHONE NUMBERS

Should be listed with periods. 910.962.2092

QUOTATION MARKS WITH OTHER PUNCTUATION

Place a comma or period inside the quotation marks. The semicolon and colon are placed outside the quotation marks.

Place question marks or exclamation marks inside or outside quotation marks, depending on the quote.

• Did the dean say, “The committee will meet this afternoon”?
• The dean asked, “Will the committee meet in Cameron Hall?”
SEASONS
Lowercase names of seasons, except at the beginning of a sentence.
- fall semester 2021

SEMICOLONs
Do not use semicolons in place of commas. Instead, semicolons are primarily used to connect two closely related sentences without an “and.”

SPLIT INFINITIVES
It is better to inquire diligently than to diligently inquire. There are exceptions: “The university hopes to more than double its enrollment.”

STATES
Postal ZIP code abbreviations for states should be used when abbreviating a state name in text copy.
- CA, MN, NC, WS
  (instead of Calif., Minn., N.C., Wis.)
The District of Columbia is treated like a state.
- Washington, D.C., is the nation’s capital.

SUBJECT/VERB AGREEMENT
The pronoun “none” can take either a singular or plural verb. When none means “not one” or “no one,” it takes a singular verb.
- None of the apples is big enough.
A plural verb is commonly used when “none” refers to more than one thing or person.
- None are as fallible as those who are sure they’re right.

The collective nouns “faculty” and “staff” can be used in singular and plural senses and can take a singular or plural verb.
- Staff as a singular group.
- Staff meaning individual members.
- The geology faculty meets regularly with other science faculties.
- The faculty sometimes discuss the issue among themselves.

Plurals of Latin and Greek words take plural verbs.
- data are (can be singular or plural, but plural is preferred), media are, phenomena are, curricula are

“A number of” takes a plural verb; “the number of” takes a singular verb. Do not try to extend this rule to other nouns; it works only for “number.” “Amount” refers to the quantity of something and is always singular.

A compound subject joined by “and” takes a plural verb. A compound subject joined by “or” takes a verb that agrees with the subject closest to the verb.

Use a singular verb after “each,” “either,” “everyone,” “everybody,” “neither,” “nobody,” “someone.”
THAT/WHICH

“That” is the defining, or restrictive pronoun, “which” the nondefining, or nonrestrictive.

“Which” can introduce restrictive or nonrestrictive clauses. Essential clauses require “that.” Nonessential clauses typically require “which.”

Another hint: if you could put the clause in parentheses or set it off with commas, use “which.”

The following two sentences do not have the same meaning:

- The lawn mower that is broken is in the garage. (Restricts the meaning to only one lawn mower.)
- The lawn mower, which is broken, is in the garage. (This sentence provides the nonessential information that the lawn mower is broken.)

TIME OF DAY

Use lowercase noon and midnight, not 12 a.m. or 12 p.m. Use 8 a.m., not 8:00 a.m.

- Do not capitalize a.m. or p.m. and use periods after each letter.
- Do not use a.m. or p.m. at the end of a sentence.
- Use a comma after the time (a.m. or p.m.) when used in a sequence with day, date and location of event.
- The seminar will start at 8 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 4.
- For a span of time either 9-11 a.m. (no spaces between numbers) or 9 to 11 a.m. is acceptable.

TITLES

Capitalize a title before a person’s name. Lowercase a title following a person’s name. Lowercase a professional title when it stands without a name. The title “vice chancellor” is written without a hyphen.

- John Smith, Ph.D.
- but not Dr. John Smith, Ph.D.
- Dean John Smith

Do not use titles in combination with any other title or with abbreviations indicating academic or professional degrees.

THE UNIVERSITY

The University of North Carolina Wilmington is to be referred to as UNC Wilmington with external audiences and UNCW with internal audiences on second and subsequent mentions.

- Do not use a hyphen between UNC and W.
- Do not use UNC “at” Wilmington.
- Do not use periods between the letters UNCW.

Lowercase “university” when it stands alone.
Formal titles (denoting scope of authority, professional activity and the like) are capitalized when they immediately precede a name.

- Dean Harriet Hobbs
- Chancellor Frank Tunik

Occupational descriptions should be lowercase.

- psychology professor Joseph Smith

Avoid courtesy titles, such as

- Mr., Mrs., Miss, Ms.

Following AP style, Dr. is used as a courtesy title with regards to a medical doctor. UNCW follows this style and Dr. is not used as a courtesy title for the holders of doctorates.

When referring to a medical doctor, M.D. should follow the last name.

- John Smith, M.D.

“Professor” is never abbreviated. The title “doctor” is generally abbreviated; however, avoid it when its use is not critical to the subject of the text.

Titles (and, in most cases, first names) should be dropped on second reference and thereafter. Exceptions are familiar and frequently used occupational titles such as coach or chancellor.

Use quotation marks to designate titles of short stories, short poems or articles; individual chapters in books; individual songs; conference presentations or papers; and radio and television shows (or single episodes of a continuing series).

Italicize titles of books, films, long poems, magazines, plays, record albums, large musical works, newspapers and continuing TV/radio series.

TITLES IN PROGRAM LISTINGS

Internal programs for events with UNCW personnel only:

Charles Hardy  Dean, College of Health and Human Services

Internal programs for events with UNCW and external speakers

Charles Hardy  Dean, UNCW College of Health and Human Services

URLS

- Break a url before or after the discrete units that begin the url.
- Don’t break the url with a hyphen, but before a punctuation mark.
- If a sentence ends with a url, add a period at the end.

WHERE IS THAT EVENT?

To aid in directing the public to campus events, publicize locations with the building listed first, then the room. Include the abbreviation as additional information, not as the sole location information as not everyone is familiar with UNCW building abbreviations.

- Wagoner Hall, Madeline Suite
- Alderman Hall, Room 215
