

WRITERS' WEEK, 2018 Last updated: Oct. 17, 2018
 celebrating Trespass, an essay collection forthcoming from Ecotone and Lookout Books

All events are free and open to the public, and will take place in Lumina Theater, located on the first floor of the Fisher Student Center, UNCW campus.
Lot M, located at Riegel Road and Price Drive, is the official visitor parking lot and is available for use by visitors attending campus events.

	Mon Oct 29	Tue Oct 30	Wed Oct 31	Thu Nov 1	Fri Nov 2
Morning	10:00 MEG DAY Craft Lecture (poetry)	10:00 TONI JENSEN Craft Lecture (fiction) What's at Stake? Writing that Pushes Past Risk Toward Reward	10:00 Writers on the Storm: Responding to Hurricane Florence and Environmental Concerns, moderated by David Gessner	10:00 Alumni Career Panel in partnership with HAWKtalks: Classrooms to Careers	10:00 CAMILLE T. DUNGY Craft Lecture (nonfiction)
Afternoon	12:30 JONI TEVIS* Craft Lecture (nonfiction) Funded in part by a grant from South Arts in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts and the NC Arts Council.	12:30 Trespass: Ecotone Essayists Beyond the Boundaries of Place, Identity, and Feminism* Contributors Toni Jensen & Joni Tevis discuss how women make room for greater complexity in place-based writing: explorations of body, sexuality, gender, and race, with editor Anna Lena Phillips Bell and publisher Emily Smith. in partnership with Women's Studies and Resource Center	12:30 MAY-LEE CHAI Craft Lecture (fiction, ghost stories)	12:30 JULIE BUNTIN Book Editor Presentation	12:30 Author Camille T. Dungy and agent Samantha Shea in conversation, moderated by Emily Smith
	2:00 Representation, access, and authenticity in writing and publishing, moderated by Melissa Crowe, with Cortney Lamar Charleston, Meg Day, and Jason Mott in partnership with Women's Studies and Resource Center	2:00 CORTNEY LAMAR CHARLESTON Craft Lecture (poetry)	2:00 BFA Reading	2:00 SAMANTHA SHEA Literary Agent Presentation
Evening	7:00 Night of Poetry with MEG DAY & CORTNEY LAMAR CHARLESTON	7:00 Celebration of Trespass essay collection from Ecotone & Lookout Books with readings by contributors* TONI JENSEN & JONI TEVIS	7:00 Readings MAY-LEE CHAI & SAYANTANI DASGUPTA	7:00 Buckner Keynote Reading CAMILLE T. DUNGY

*Funded in part by a grant from South Arts in partnership with the National Endowment for the Arts and the NC Arts Council.